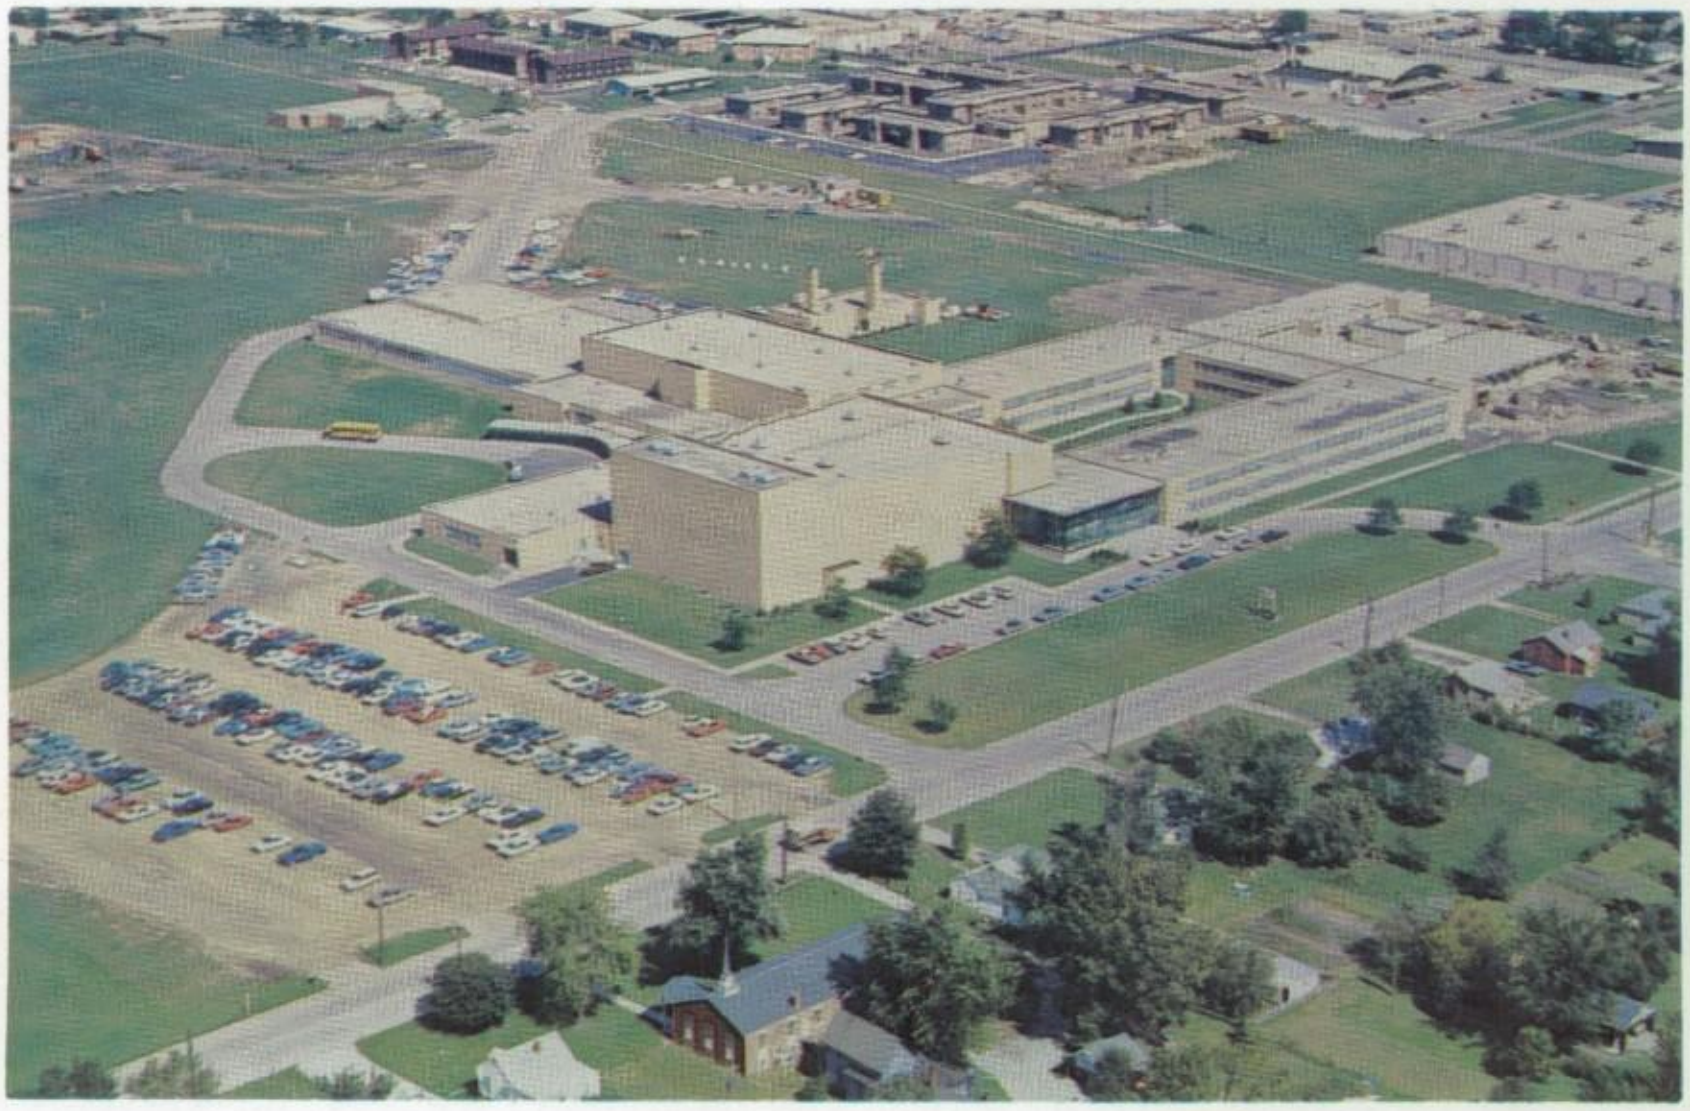
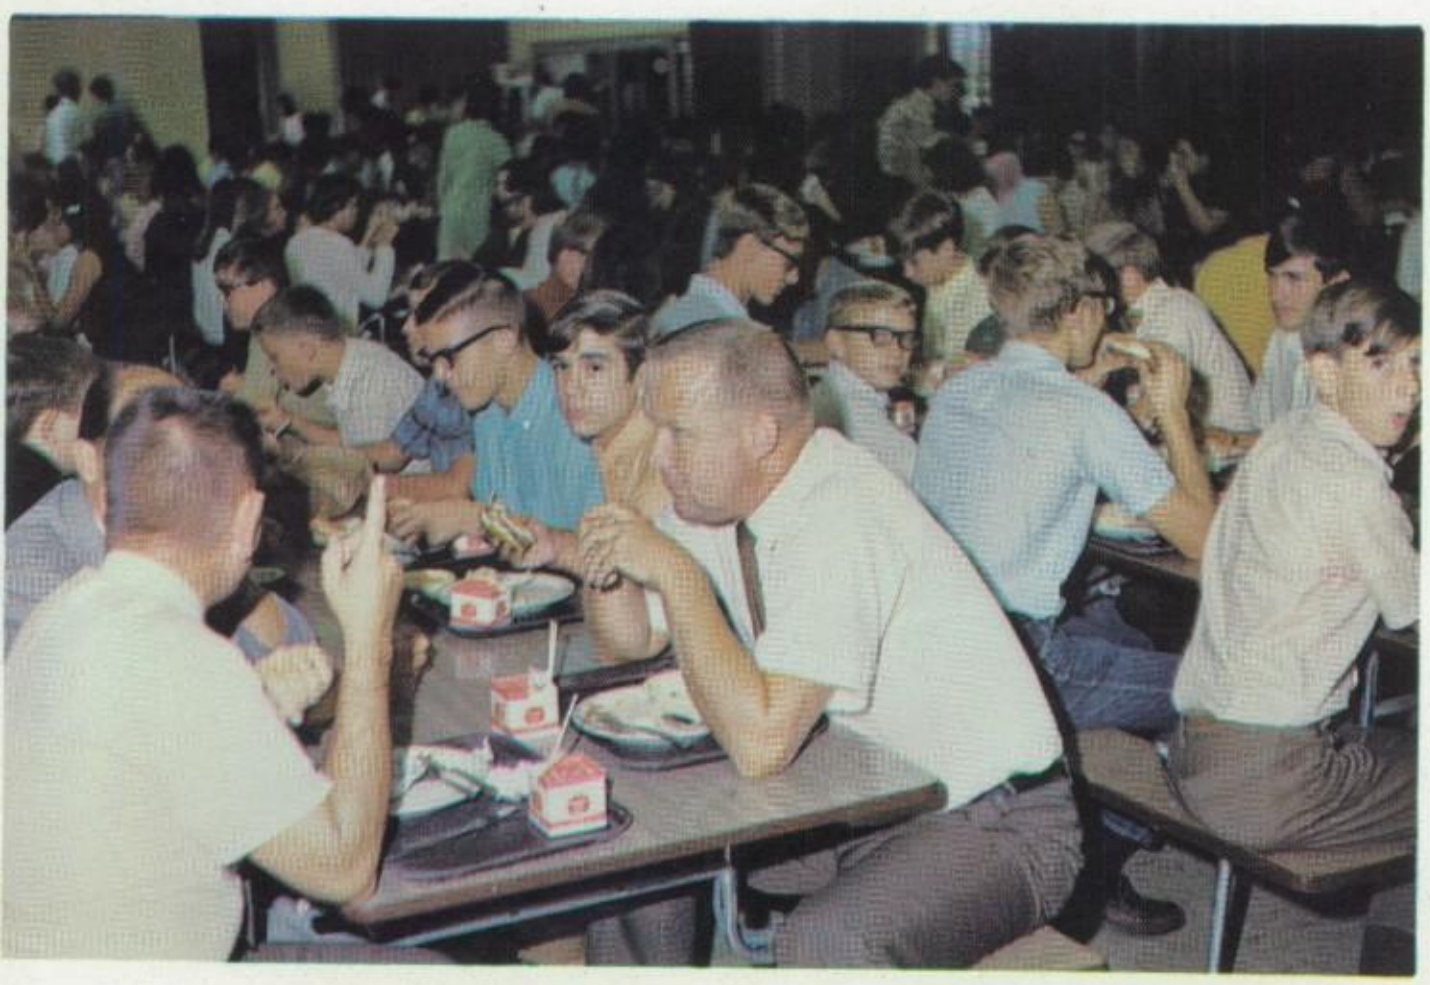
Look Around...It's Getting Better

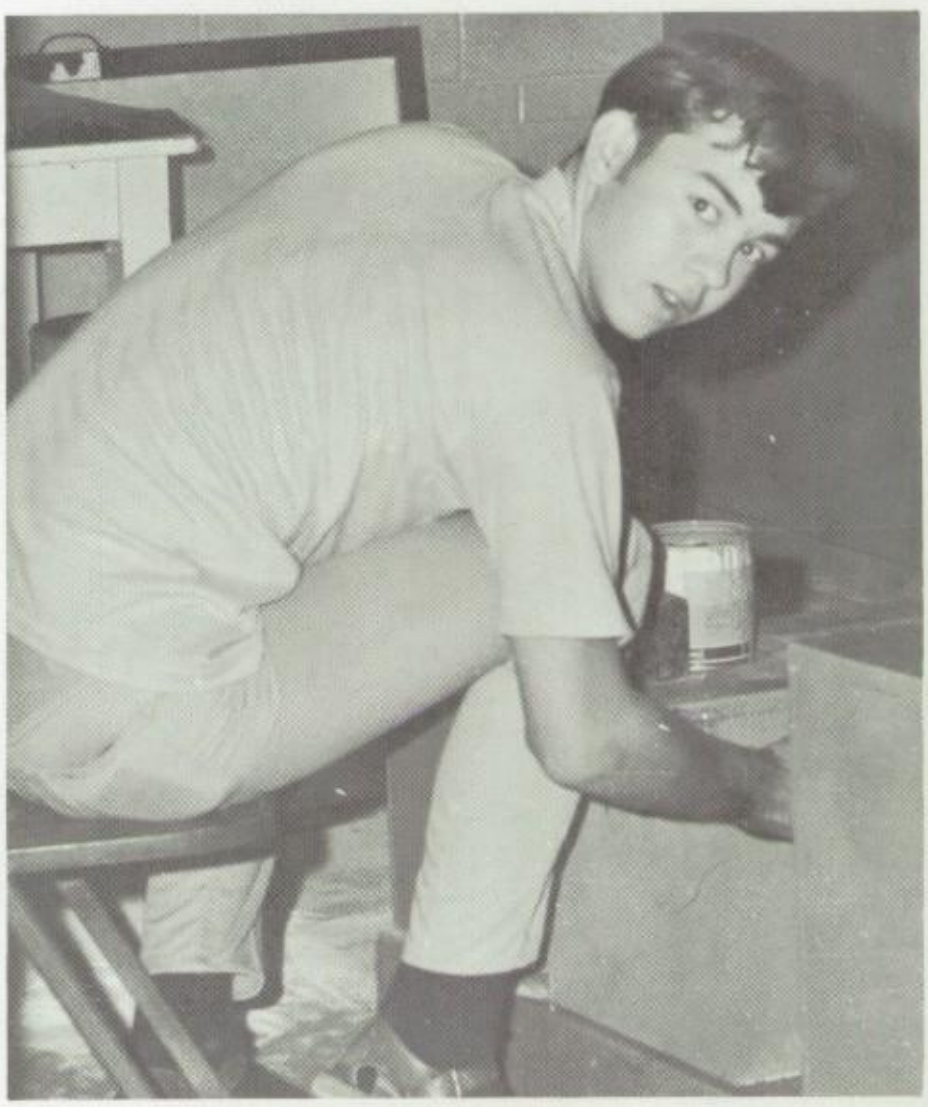
All The Time

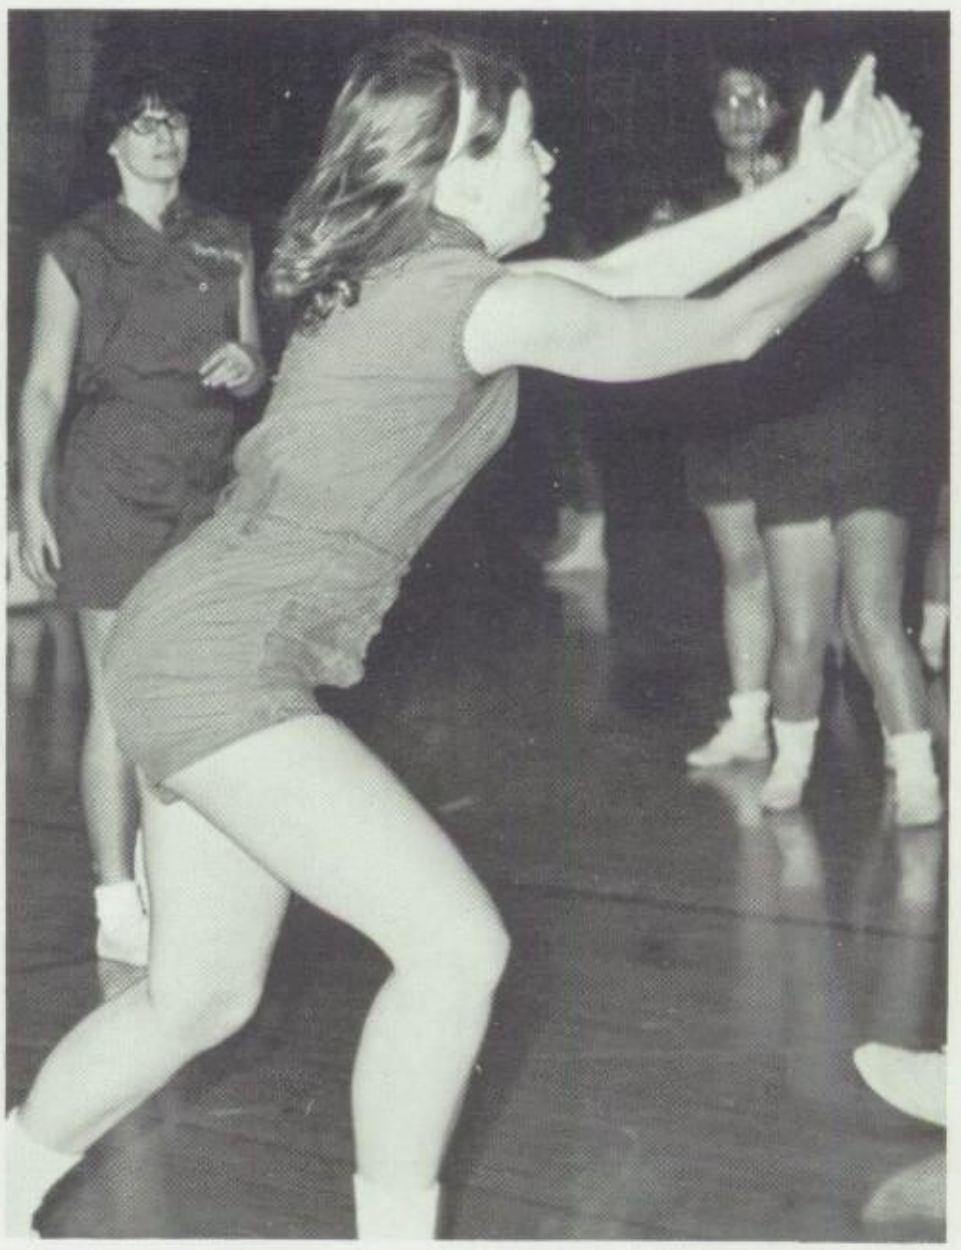




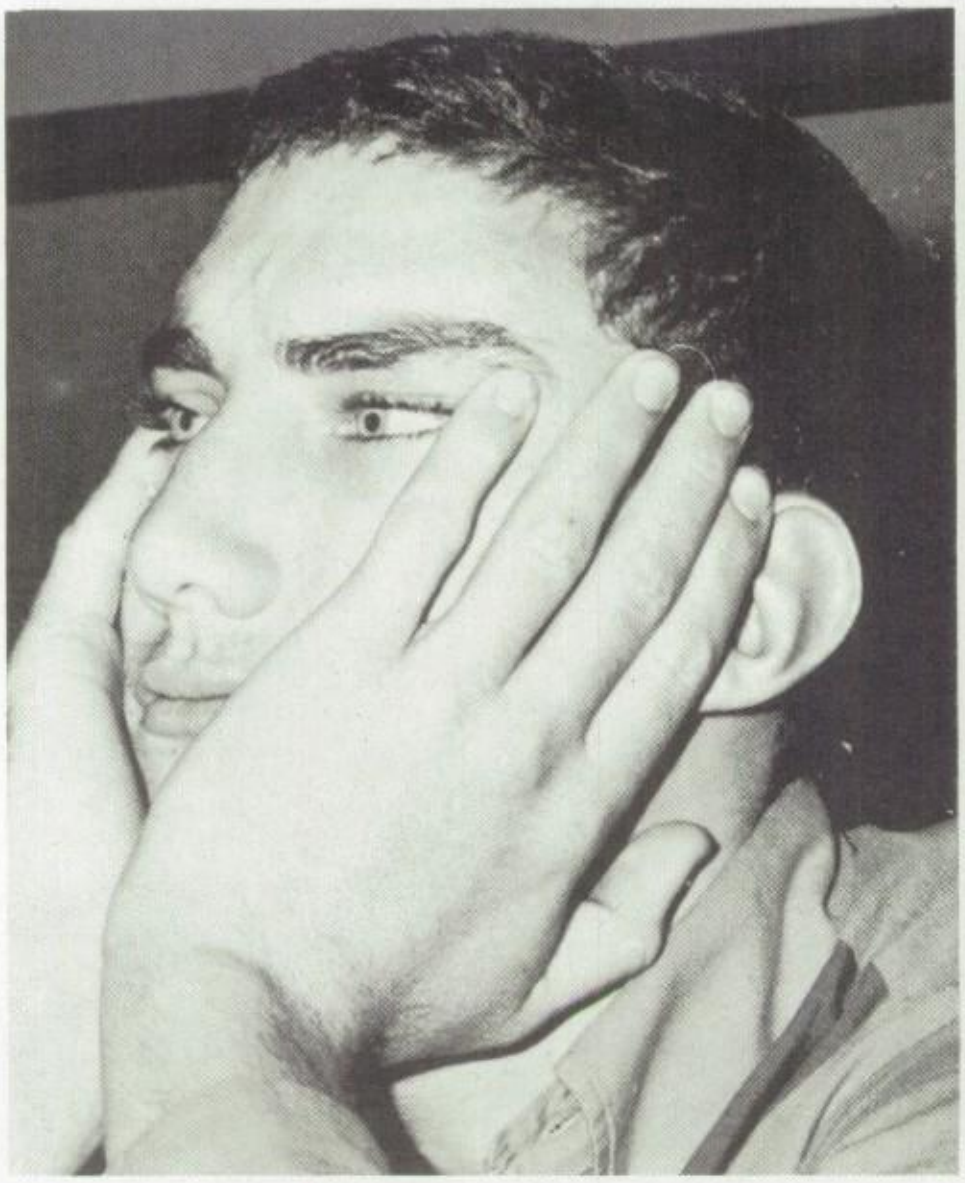
Who's Who At G.H.S. ...

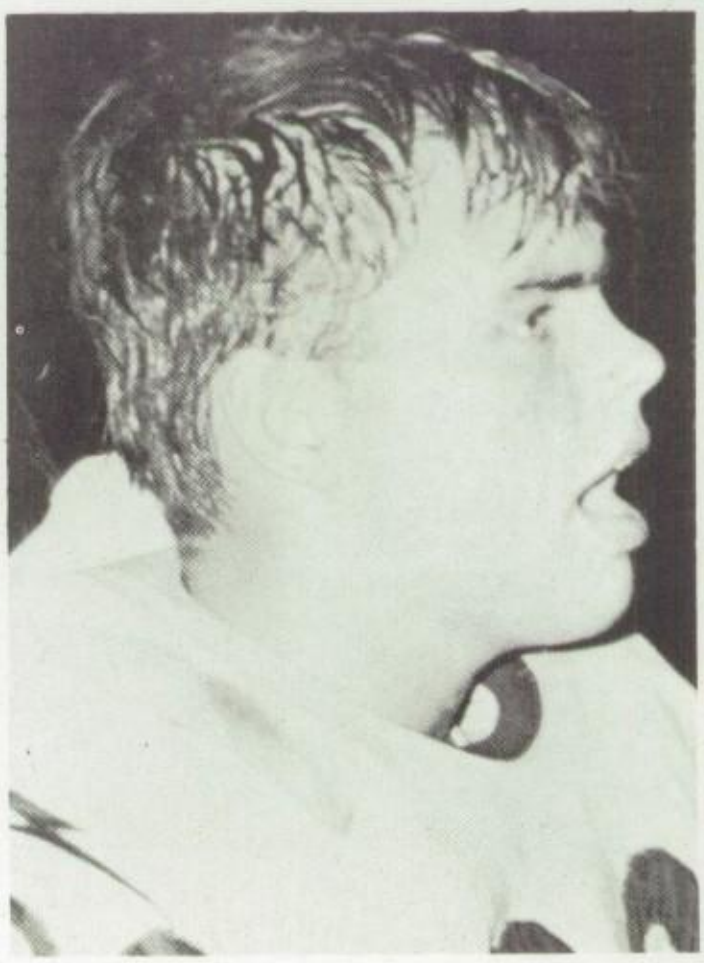
Are you wondering Who's Who At G.H.S. in '69'? The halls display the greatest asset of G.H.S. —our students. To you, they may be just a blur of faces, but every single person plays a dominant part in the success of our school. The leaders of tomorrow will be found in the great class of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine. After three long, gruelling years, it's time for the Seniors to say farewell and turn their positions over to the classes of '70' and '71'. As you look back over the past year, hopefully you will have fond memories of the year 1969.

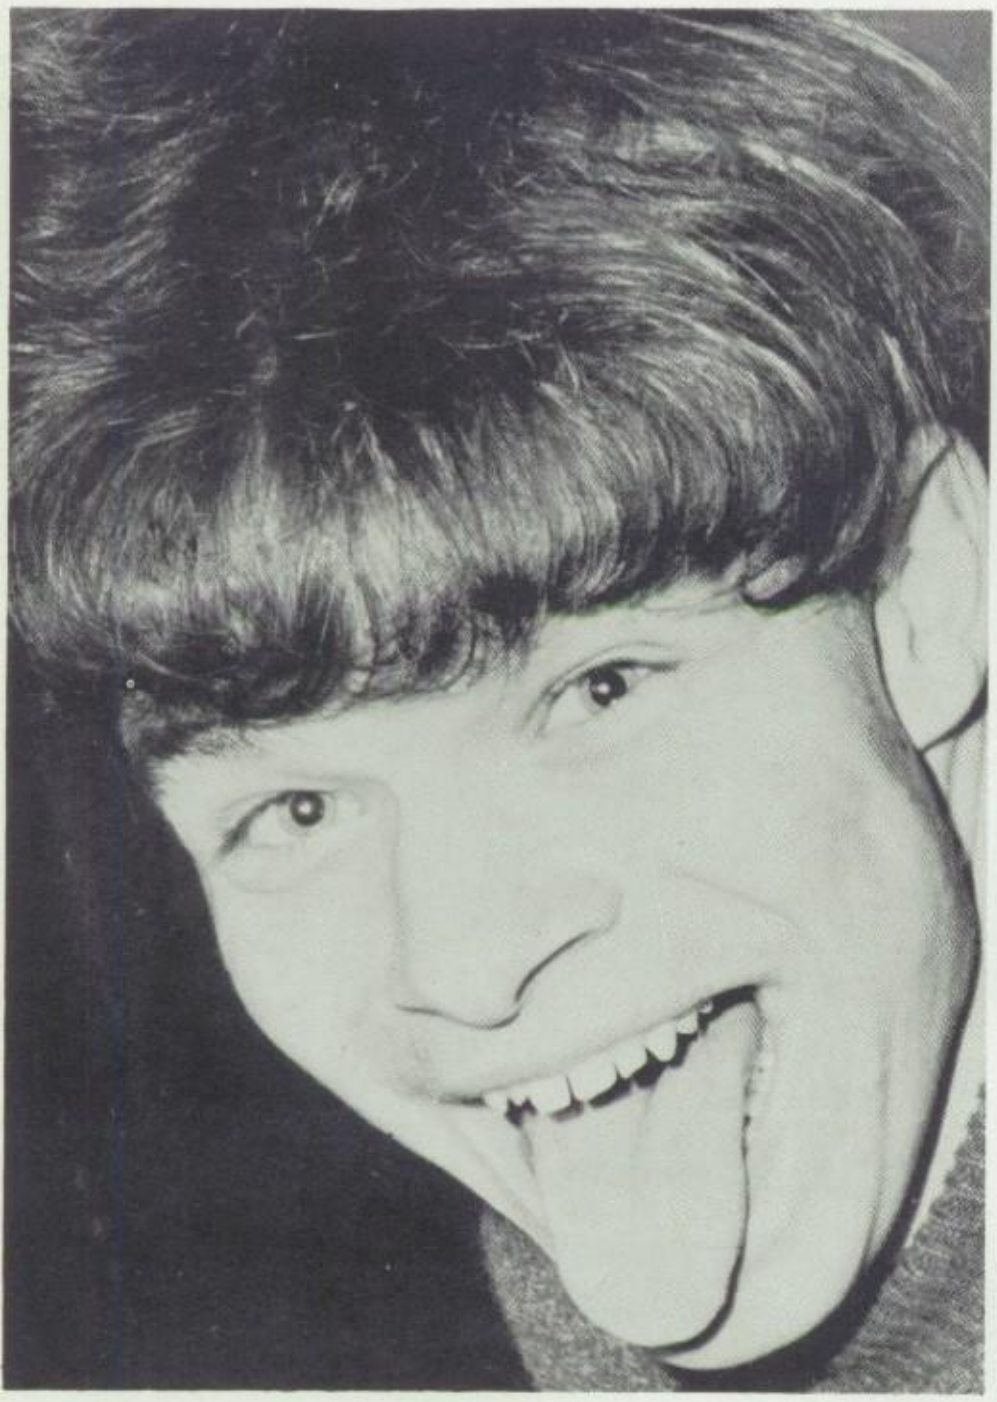


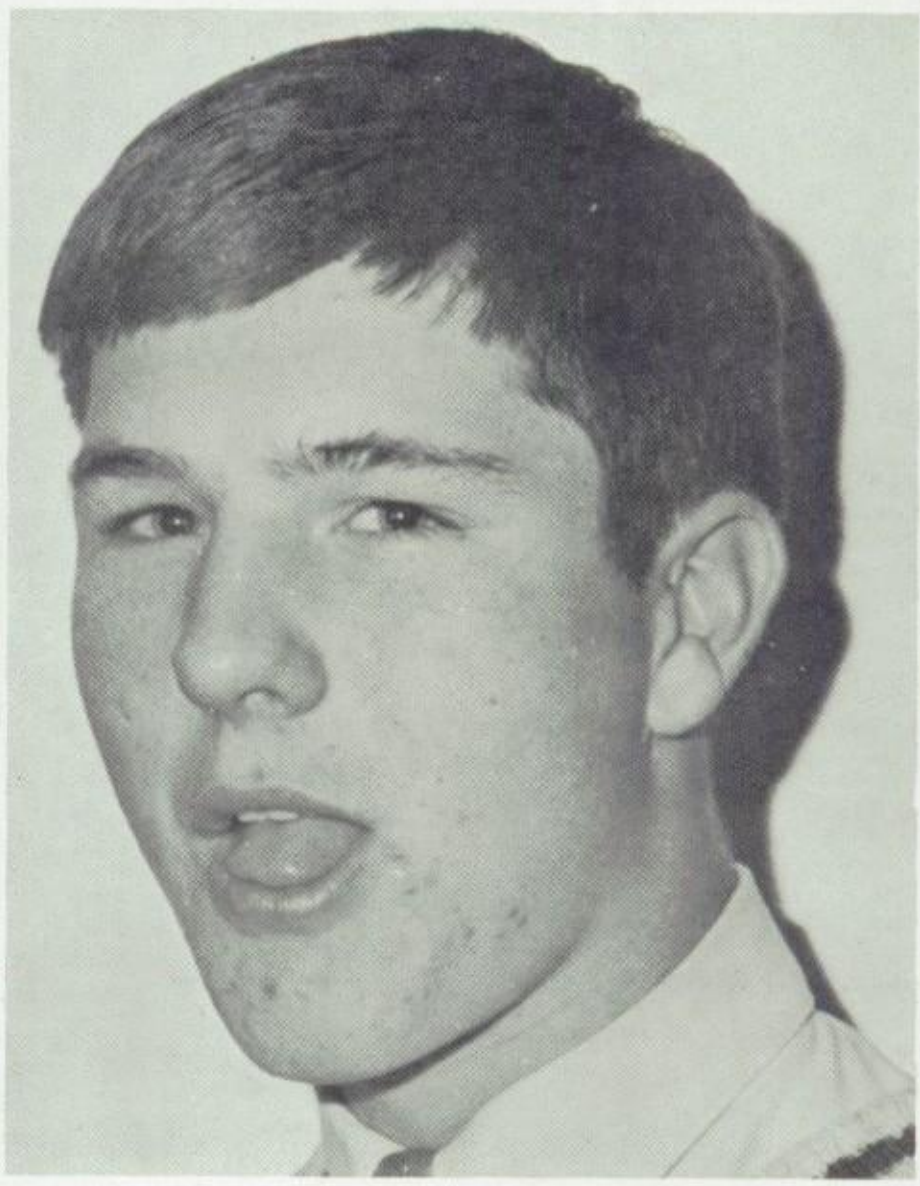


...But They're Guaranteed To Raise A Smile

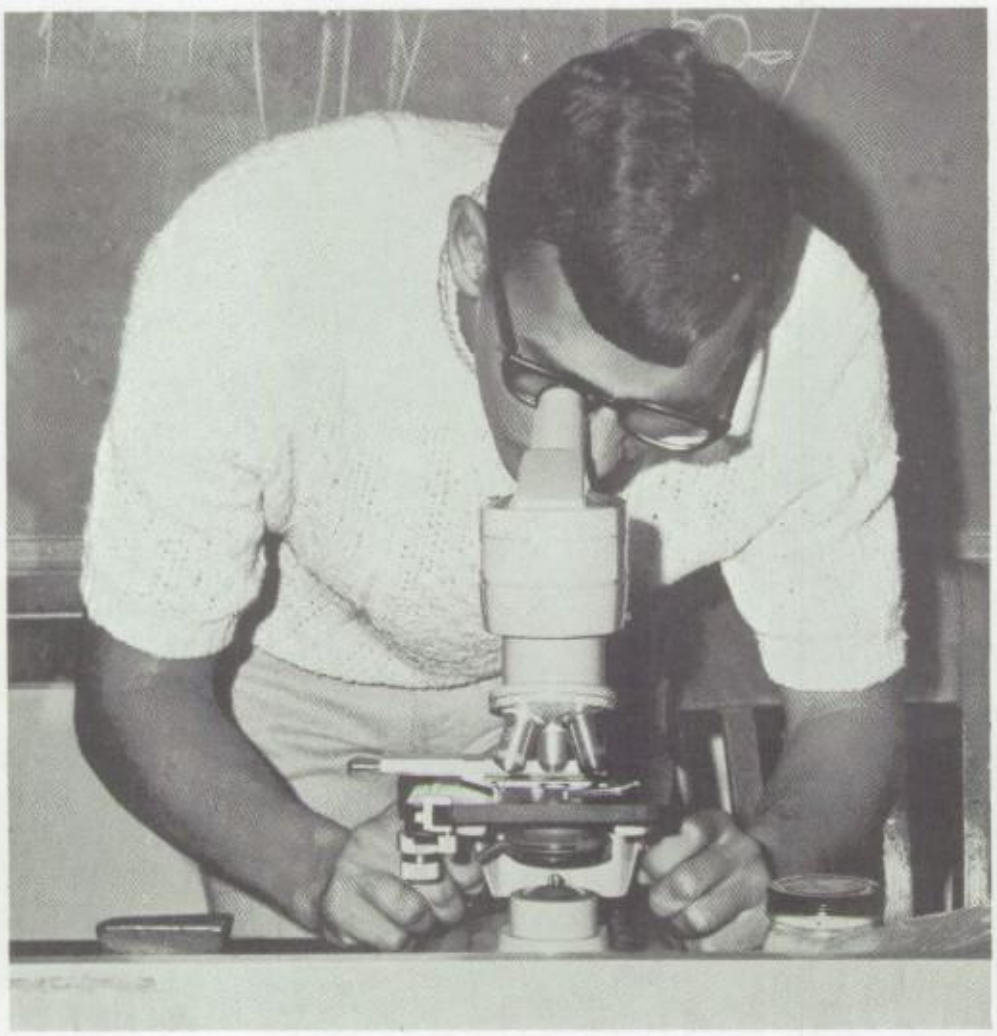


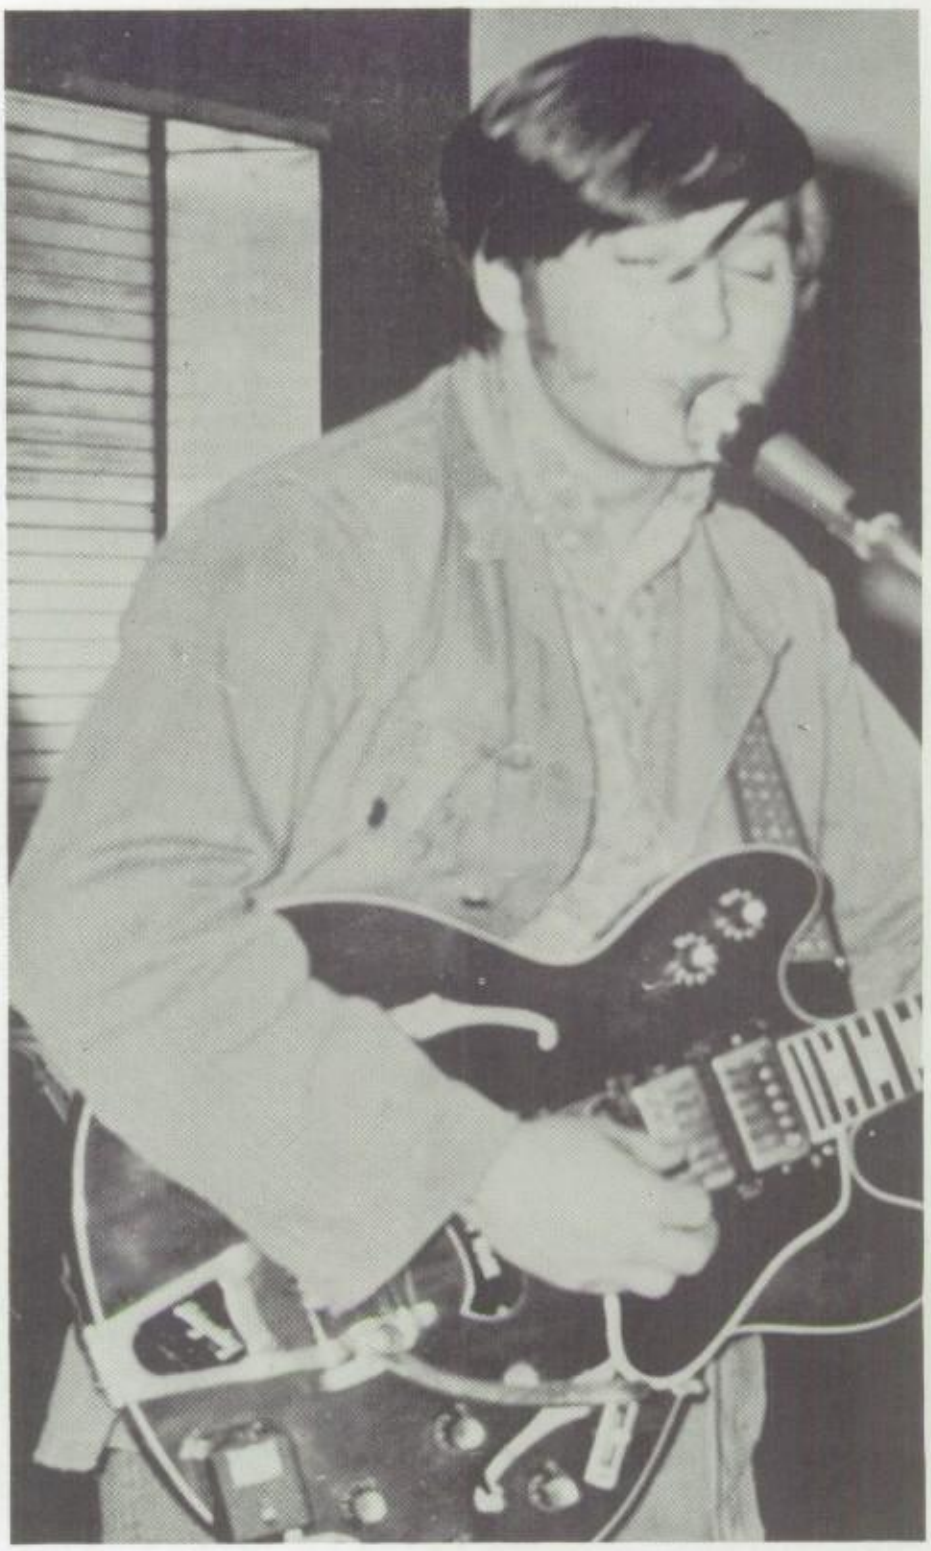




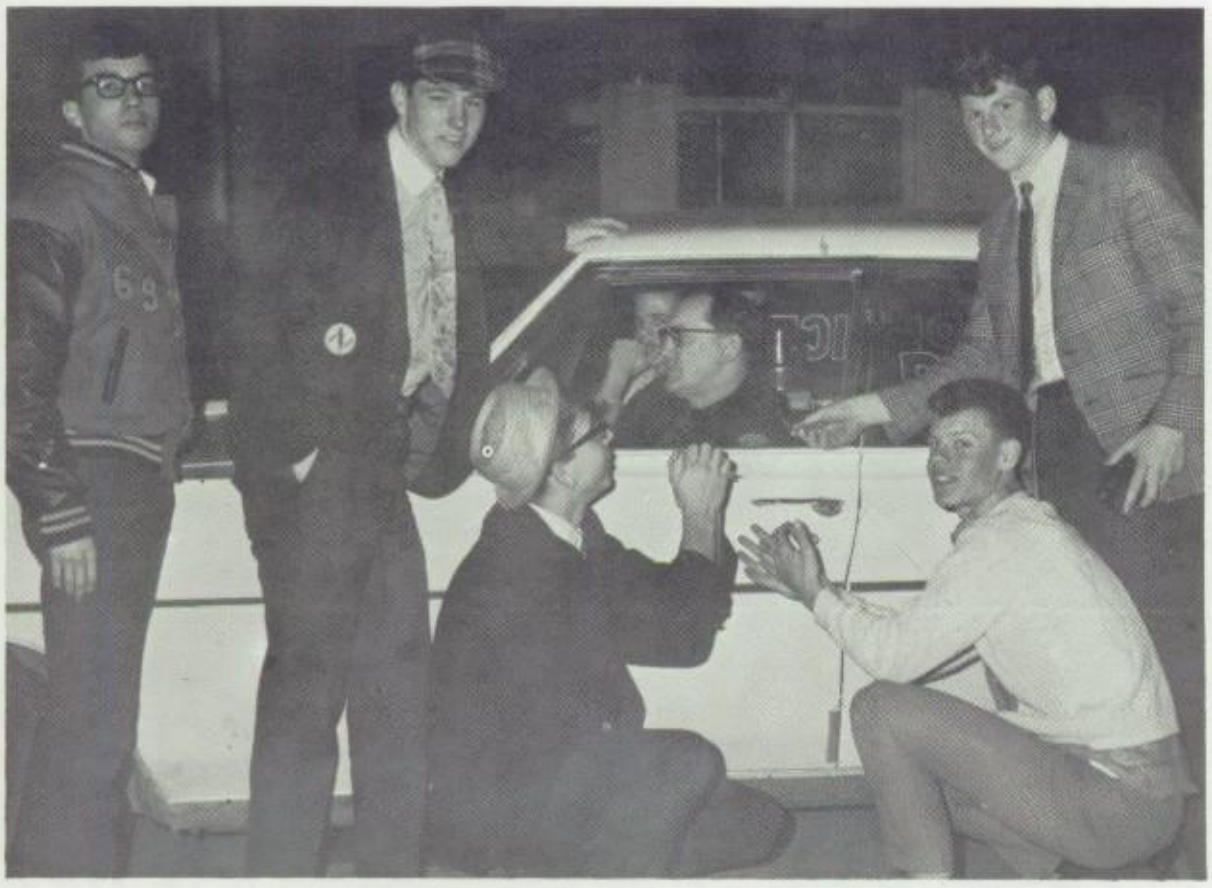


'69 Denotes
Great Change



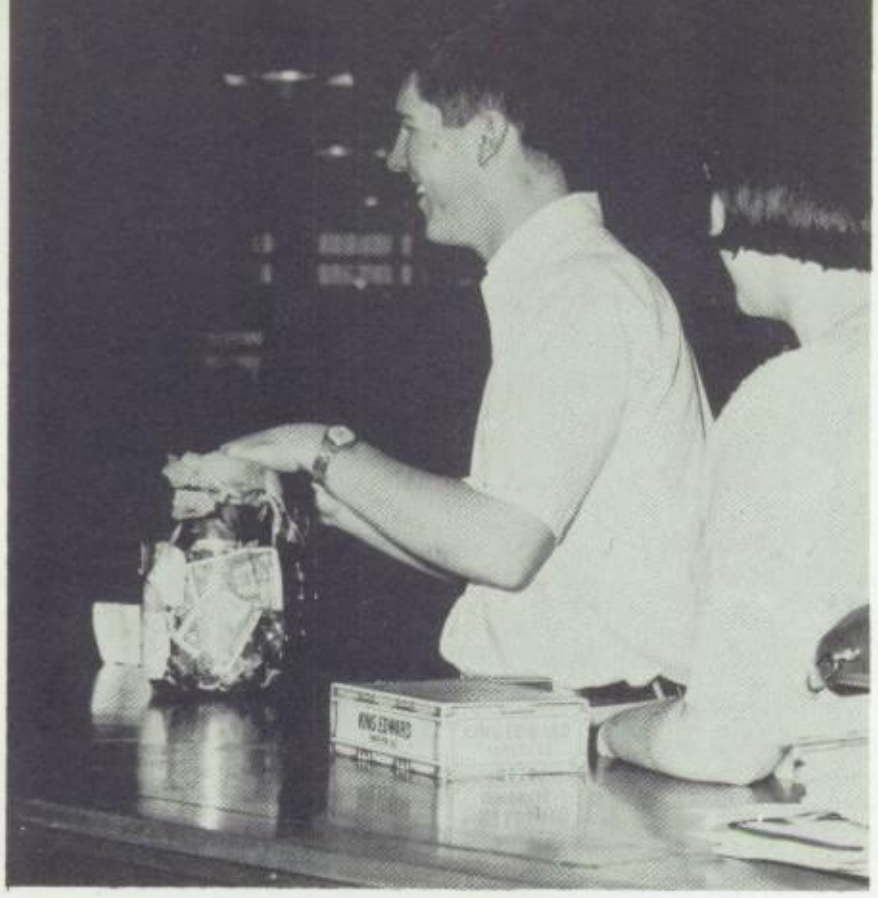


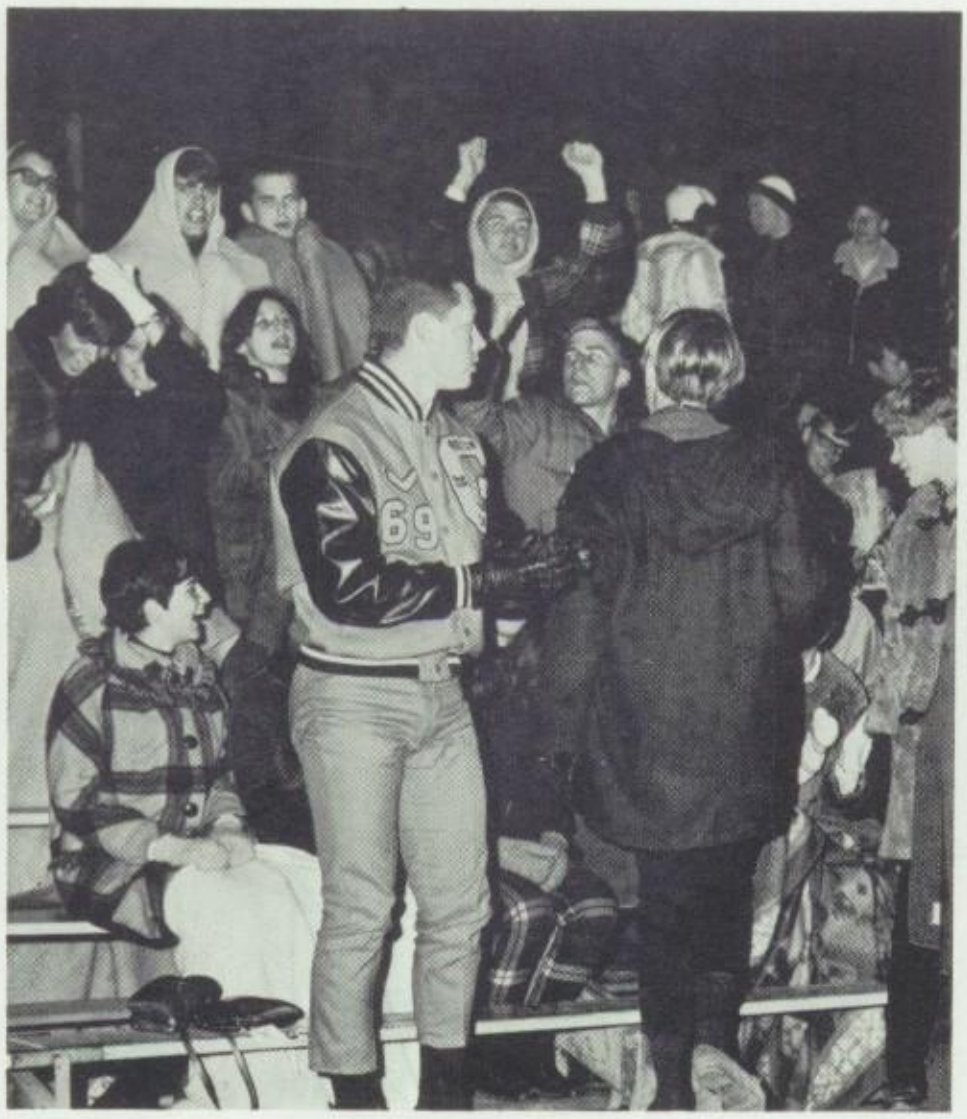
Throughout the past year many changes have occurred at G.H.S. The most obvious of these was the new learning center. Benefiting the community and future students, the learning center and new classrooms were a helpful addition to our Alma Mater. By now everyone is acquainted with Mr. George Miller, the new principal. More changes initiated by Mr. Miller are seen in the future.

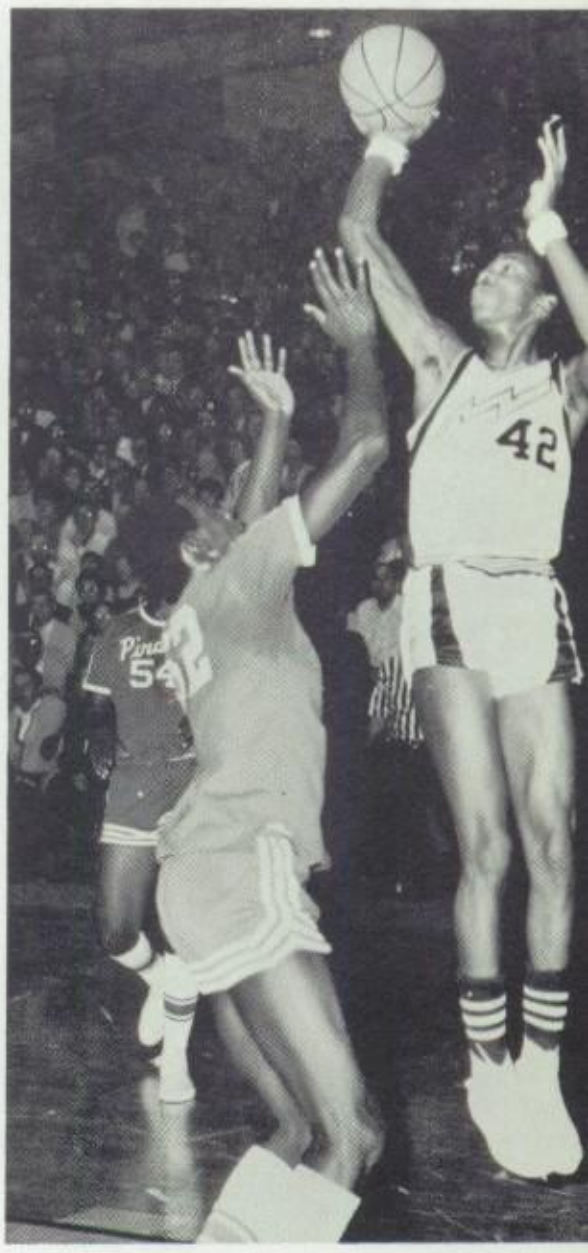


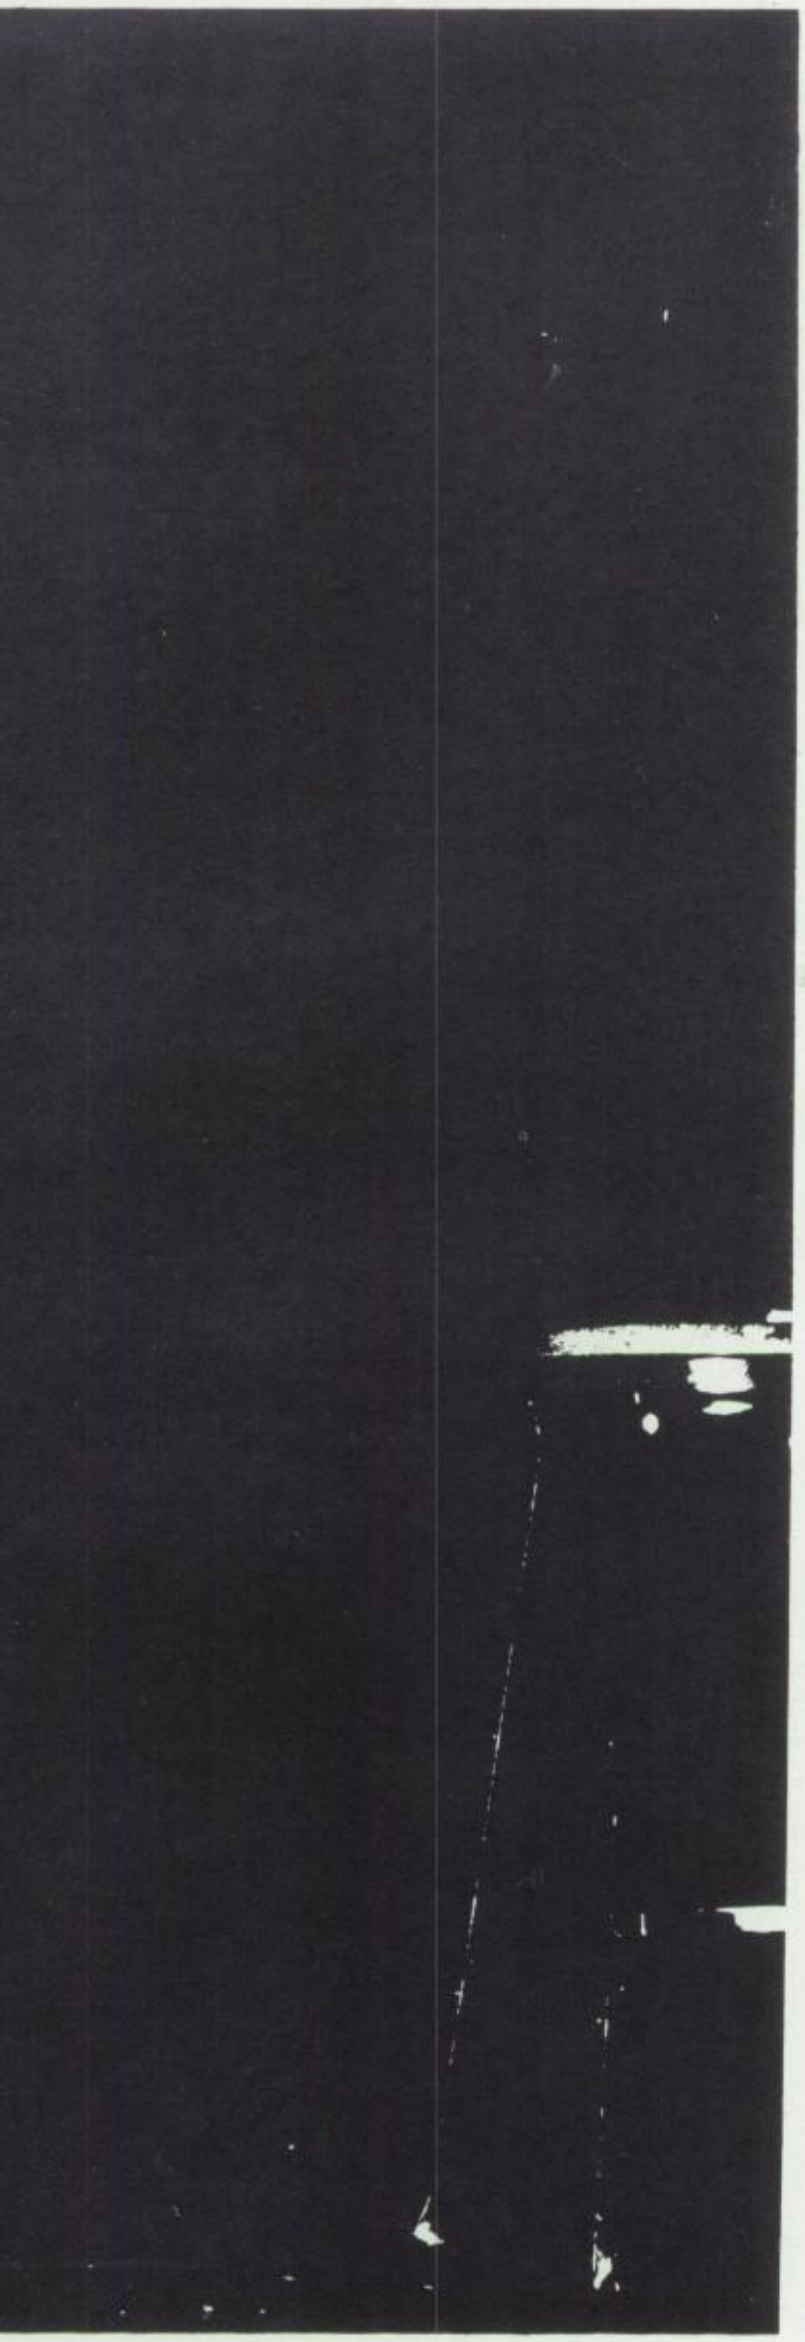
1969 Has Been A Great Year For All

Yes, 69 was a very good year, but as many Seniors have said,... much too short. It was only yesterday we were being dismissed from the auditorium first, giving the incoming Soph's a hard time, taking first place on our Homecoming float, helping out on the Senior class car wash, defeating the juniors and sophomores at the victory battle cries, applying to colleges, taking SAT and ACT tests, and dancing at our last Winter Formal. All Seniors certainly have many memories of fun times and working together the past year of 1969.

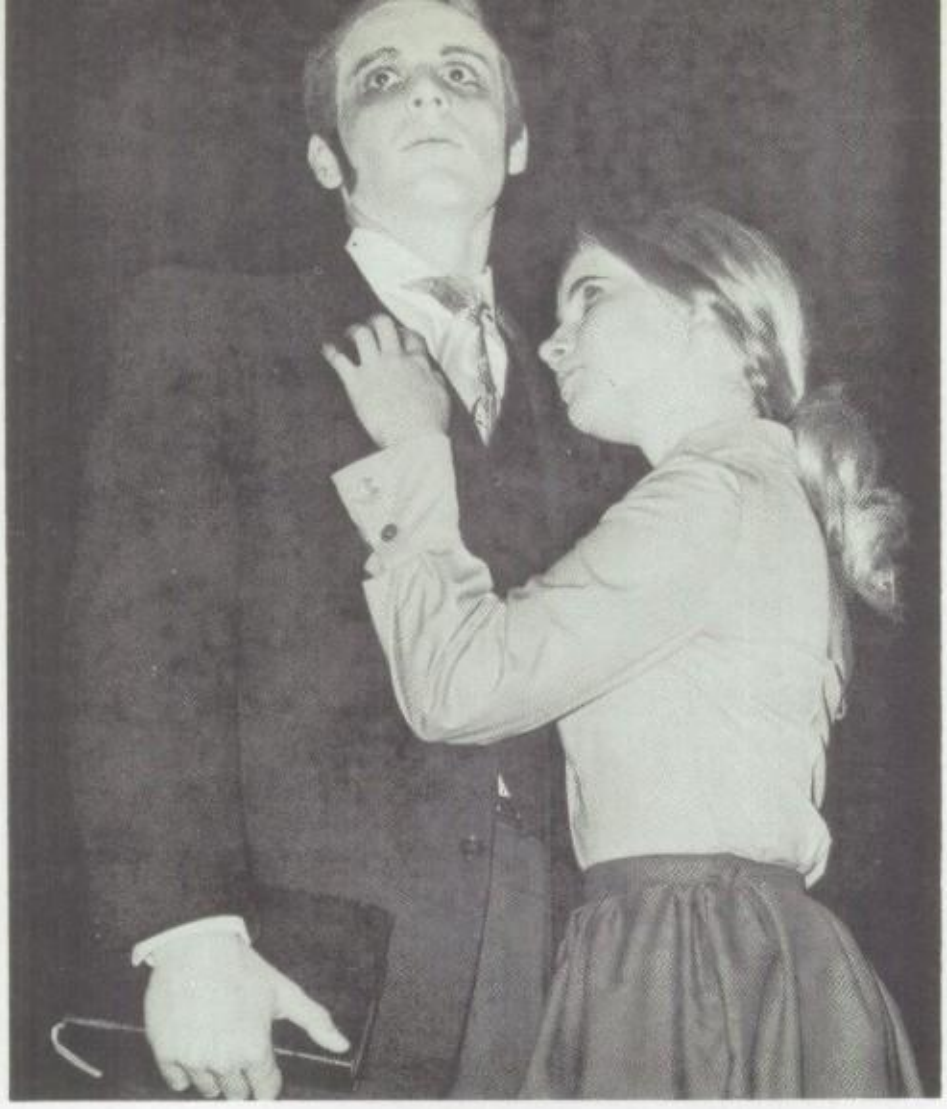








ACTIVITIES



Rev. Sibley tries to ignore the caresses of his wife "for the sake of the ministry."

The GHS Drama Department opened the 1968-69 season by presenting Edgar Lee Masters' Spoon River Anthology. A series of poetic monologues make up the Anthology. The play takes place in an imaginary Midwestern cemetery. The characters are all dead and speak from their graves. Each reads his own epitaph, discovering and confessing the real motivations of his life. The characters display typical personalities of a small town. Through these characters, Masters displays his emotions and presents his own philosophy.

This production was chosen by Mr. Krause because it was a different kind of drama that offered opportunities for several main characters. Each member of the cast should be congratulated for the superb role they played.

One of the most exciting activities of Homecoming is the selection of the King and Queen. As always, there were many fine candidates from which to choose. The Queen candidates were Becca Dickerson, Barb Eichhorn, Janet Naugle, Becky Sherwood, Pam Smith and Sue Willander. King candidates included Roger Cirimotich, John Hardine, Bob Mitchell, Ted Nocella, Jim Sundberg, and Dean Weaver. The presentation of the royal court took place on Friday at the traditional Homecoming assembly, beginning the Homecoming weekend. The stage curtains opened revealing a beautiful throne to seat the King and Queen. The long awaited moment came as it was announced the royalty for the 1968 Homecoming would be Queen Becca Dickerson, and King Dean Weaver, attended by junior Cathy Hick, and sophomore Sylvia Trimble.

Pomps, Football, Sore Feet,...

Homecoming and all of its festivities is definitely the most popular activity of the school year. Enthusiasm is threefold as each class works independently on their respective floats in hopes to capture first place for originality. Preceding the traditional motorcade around the football field, the Senior float received first place, its theme being We'll Choo 'Em Up, illustrated by a locomotive. Another highlight of the Homecoming weekend is the football game. This year the Streaks met the Quincy Blue Devils, and were unable to surpass them. An exciting Homecoming '69 came to a close as couples filled the gym for dancing at "Ye Olde Town Square", this year's Homecoming dance theme. Homecoming weekend has always been everyone's favorite time of year, and this year proved no different.

Juniors were "De-Feeted" in their quest for first place.

Reflectavue Reflects Determination

Who put glue on the keyboard?

Junior girls dance to "That's Entertainment."

"...Those Were the Days."

Reflectavue, held on November 22 and 23, was one of the biggest successes ever. All the sore throats, tired aching feet, short nights, and unfinished homework assignments were all forgotten when the curtain went up. Waiting for his act to go on, every performer had that special uneasy feeling. Sighs of accomplishment and cries of sadness drifted in the air backstage as the curtain closed for the last time, on Reflectavue 1969. Special "Congratulations" and "Thank yous" are in order for several people who made Reflectavue what it was. Mr. Roland Hegg, Miss Sally Rynott, and the stage band were responsible for the music. The lighting and stage crews were directed by Mr. Charles Krause. Mrs. Chauncey Kenney ordered the material for the costumes and the choreography was arranged by Mrs. Richard Hurst. Reflectavue would not have been possible without the cooperation and talent of these people.

Reflectavue '69 brought color and versatility to the variety show of the year. The Entertainers, or junior girls' kickline, dressed in bright orange and black, made an impressive opening act. In addition to the music and dancing, there was comedy. "Dry Bones," starring The Bones, revealed their humorous talents and nearly brought the house down. "Cave-Girl Talk Song" brought the Senior Cave Girls to the stage. Those displaying their singing abilities were Becky Sherwood and Deke Wilcox, each with a solo. What would Reflectavue have been without Daddy's Go-Go Girls? Certainly, a great amount of beauty and poise. The Sophisticates, or senior girls' kickline, dressed in black and red ended the show kicking to "Come to the Cabaret." The combined twenty-three acts certainly proved that Reflectavue '69 was the greatest ever.

Fantasia

"Fantasia" shone with a thousand delicate, glistening snowflakes, and a room was transformed into the slow, graceful movement of softly colored illusion. White streamers fell gently among sparkling eyes and ecstatic smiles, enclosing a very special world in which for a few moments Janet Greer and Randy Mason reigned, King and Queen of the 1969 Winter Formal. Seconds before the couple assumed their throne, they stood amidst the laughing and excited group of nominees, Phyllis Aldrich, Susan Fox, Sharon Galyean, Hakan Blomqvist, Don Coates, and Mike White. "Fantasia" emerged a success, an event of tremendous beauty and excitement.

A new star is born.

House lights dim. The orchestra swells. All is hushed, restive, expectant. Figures move into place on a darkened stage. Anxiety, exhilaration, the remembrance of spilt paint, laughter, sleeplessness are softened, smoothed, transformed, and from it all Camelot emerges.

Artistically, musically, theatrically the GHS production proved to be an overwhelming success, and upon its climax the warmly receptive audience rose to offer a standing ovation. The GHS Drama, Vocal, and Orchestral departments, had combined their efforts in an attempt to recreate the vague, illusive quality of an ancient legend and had done so beautifully. The players and directors of the Galesburg High musical could be justly proud of their achievement.

Crowd looks on as Rich is crowned Penny Prance King.

The annual Penny Prance sponsored by GAA was held March 1st in the cafeteria. A local soul band, Lord James and the Diplomats, provided music for the dance. A king was chosen by students according to the amount of pennies placed in the candidate's jars during the lunch lines. One penny equaled one vote. All senior boys boasting a varsity letter and a "C" average were eligible. During intermission, all king candidates and their dates danced in the middle of the room. Beth Malone, GAA president walked between the dancers and crowned Rich Adams the 1969 Penny Prance King.

Students Welcome Learning Center

An impressive addition to the school was opened to student use about mid-year. This is the new Learning Center. The new addition houses ten classrooms, three lecture rooms, and a new library with a two-hundred student capacity. The three lecture rooms provide facilities for the physics, biology and chemistry classes. Each lecture room contains a front laboratory table where the teacher is able to lecture and demonstrate experiments. The library, complete with individual study carrels, and audio-visual aid equipment, serves as an excellent place for study. Access to the Learning Center is offered to students as it is opened week nights until 8:30.

ACADEMICS

Strange Words Create Challenge

A total of four languages are offered in the GHS curriculum. A pupil may enroll in French, German, Latin or Spanish. Students learn not only to speak the foreign language, but to read it and write it as well. A little history and geography of the places where the language is spoken is taught to the students as they seek current events happening in those places today. Students of the four language classes may join their respective language clubs. At Christmas time, the students in the Language Department sing Christmas carols during early morning classes.

No Ted, that grade isn't for suck.

Every student at GHS is required to take some courses in English. Seniors may take English literature, juniors study American literature, as sophomores receive a little of everything. There are over twelve other courses available in the English Department. Future newspapermen can take journalism, those interested in drama may enroll in dramatic arts, and those planning on being president, may take debate or speech. A semester course in rhetoric is offered to all college-bound seniors. This class stresses the importance of good writing. Also, there is business English for business majors and practical English, a basic course.

Reading, Writings, Recitations

Oral participation is an essential part of Junior English.

American history, a course taken by juniors is designed to give students an understanding of the principles on which our nation was founded. In World History class, students learn how other parts of the world have progressed since early times. A geography course concerning the effects of physical conditions on people and nations is offered to sophomores. An American problems course is open to Seniors where students discuss the problems of society. Seniors may choose to take one of the two one-semester courses, Government or Economics.

Typing and shorthand are two rather valuable courses for college-bound students, as well as those entering into business. Besides typing and shorthand, other business courses available to students are bookkeeping and accounting, and stenography. Co-operative Office Occupations and Distributive Education classes give students on-the-job training. Students enrolled in these courses go to school only half a day, and then tend various jobs about the community.

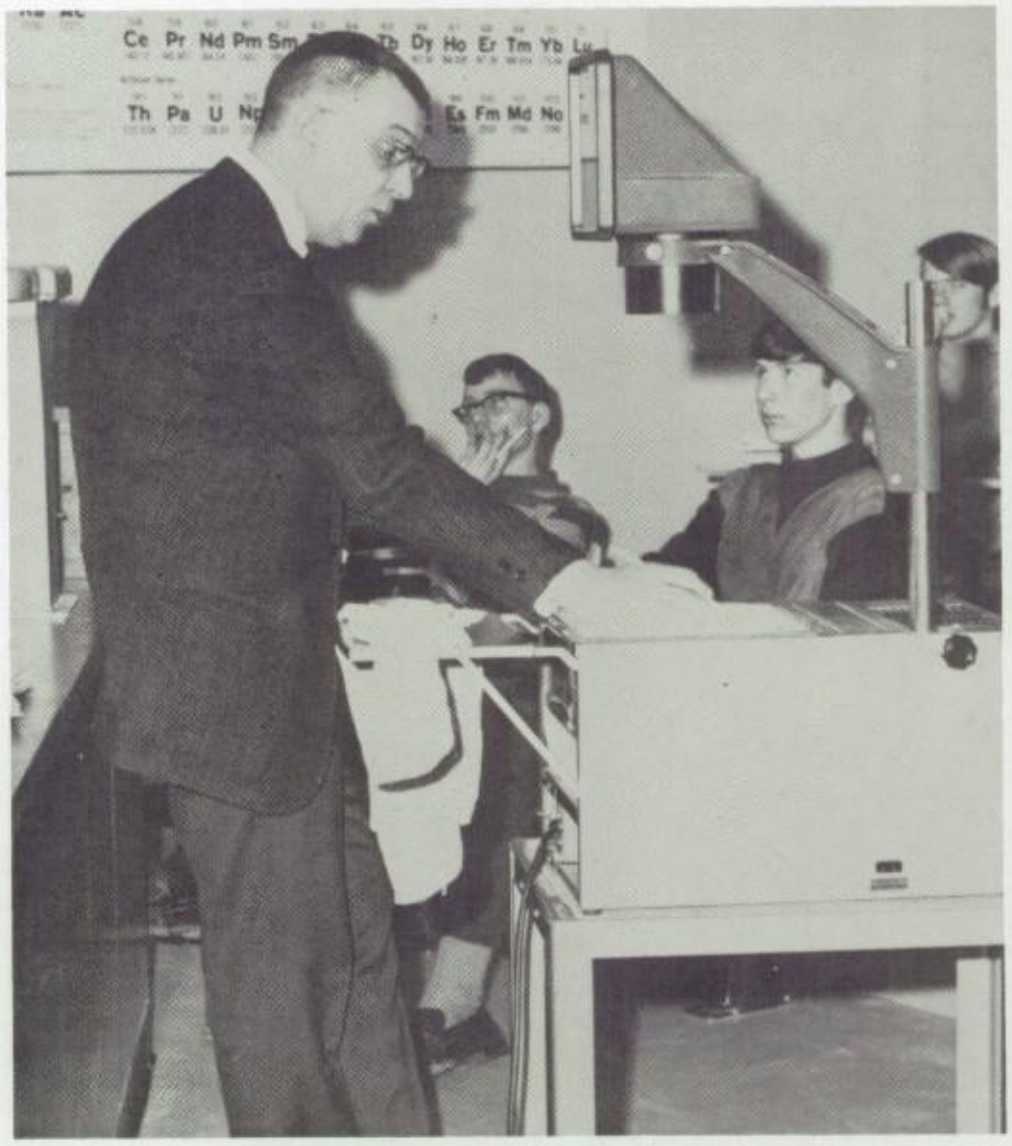
If you have never dissected a worm or a frog and you think it sounds rather exciting, Biology is for you. Lab sessions give students first hand experience in sciences where textbook information is not adequate. Chemistry students devote forty percent of class time to laboratory experiments. In Physics, students develop their reasoning powers, and background knowledge of other subjects. Advanced Biology is offered to students who have already taken first year biology and chemistry. Senior science is a basic course made available to upper classmen.

Mr. Self explains the fascinating world of Chemistry to enthusiastic students.



Physic's students spend many hours experimenting with ripple tanks.

That's O.K....Juniors will learn.

Students at GHS are offered seven math courses. Algebra, the universal shorthand, is a prerequisite to the other courses. Geometry pupils spend a majority of the time working with theorems, assumptions, and proofs. Next in line is advanced algebra. After taking these three courses, students are then eligible to enroll in trigonometry, analytic geometry, and calculus. In trig class, students try to master a tricky little device, the slide rule. A business math course is available for business majors. This course stresses processes used in the various fields.

The GHS Industrial Arts Department includes a wide variety of subjects from which to choose. Among them are metal work, printing, drafting, carpentry, and gas engines. The boys learn the fundamentals as well as the technical skills involved in each course. The industrial arts students get a chance to display their finished products in the annual Industrial Arts Fair. This year the exhibit included such objects as tables, chairs, cabinets, floor plans for houses, and a very interesting electrical display.

Art class is a place where students really have the opportunity to "do their own thing." Students with artistic flares, find the advice and instruction of Mr. Crown and Mrs. Smith to be very helpful, as they express themselves in many varieties and forms of art, including charcoal sketching, oil painting, ink drawing, and different types of sculpturing. These artists are given a chance to exhibit their masterpieces in the display cases located around the building. As a basis for the teacher to evaluate the individual progress of each pupil, a certain number of sketches are required from every student each week. The school Art Department also submits the works of many to the city's annual art fair set up on the public square.

For those interested in a future career in agriculture, the curriculum offers special courses in farming. Agriculture economics and engineering give a broad background for further study. In class, students learn to judge soils, grains and stock. The Ag Department classes often travel to Galesburg area farms, so they can see their studies put to practical use. The skills and principles a boy learns in class will be valuable later on when he begins his career in agriculture.

You're nominating me for Homemaker of the year?

Food, shelter, and clothing, are the necessities of life. Girls enrolled in Home Economics are taught about all three. In sewing class, they learn what styles best suit them, how to choose a pattern, and how to buy good cloth. As the girls learn facts about nutrition, they are instructed on how to prepare well-balanced menus. So they have knowledge of sound family life, a course in home management is offered. Each year at Christmas time, the Home Economics Department sponsors an open house tea for all students, faculty, and counselors. The girls must prepare tons of cookies and candy and buckets of punch, as their goodies are so quickly gobbled up.

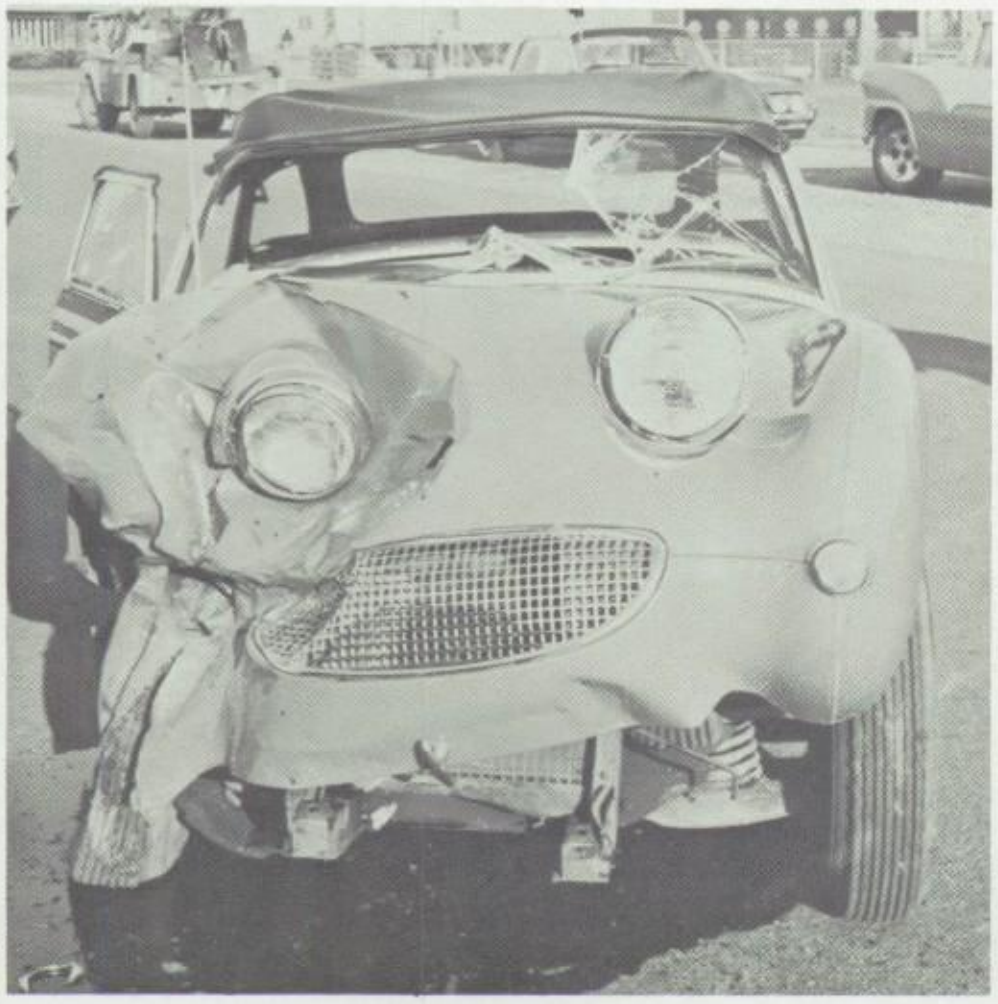
"To Drive or Not to Drive"



Student drivers strike every hour.

As a person approaches his sixteenth birthday, he faces a momentous decision "to drive or not to drive." After six weeks of classroom study, a person is prepared to take the written exam entitling him to take the twelve week "behind the wheel" driving course. Anyone who has not taken Driver's Training can not imagine the sheer terror that seizes a prospective driver's heart when he is expected to drive for the first time. Three courageous persons, Mr. Beal, Mr. Wallace, and Mr. Beach, exert time and an enormous amount of patience to help the young drivers acquire skill and confidence while driving. Finally, the long-awaited day arrives and the driver's test is successfully completed. At last, the privilege of driving without the "Student Driver" sign on top of the car is won.

Administration

Devoted Citizens Link School System And Community

The Board of Education is composed of local citizens, chosen by election, who link the school system with our community. Working closely with the Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Orval Trail, this group provides each student of School District #205 with the best educational opportunities. Among its duties, the Board of Education approves the purchase of supplies for the school system and the employment of faculty members and personnel. They are also responsible for making the rules and regulations for the smooth operation of the entire school system.

Mr. George Miller, principal

Along with the new '68-'69 schoolyear, and the sophomores, there was a new principal, Mr. George Miller. He is a very experienced leader in the field of education. He has taught industrial arts and math for five years, as well as being principal for fifteen. Mr. Miller feels that GHS has a great potential. Therefore, his assumed policy is, "to encourage—not to superimpose" his ideas on the school. Assisting Mr. Miller is Mr. Ray Franson, and Mrs. Byram, dean of girls. These three enforce the rules and regulations set down by the Board of Education.

The Problem Solvers

Six willing counselors are located in the office ready to work with students who seek advice and guidance. They help students in planning their schedules, choosing a college, or selecting a career. In working closely with students, they soon determine an individual's strong point, special interests and needs. Some of the more trivial duties of the counselors are admitting tardy students and checking absentees. Mrs. Byram and Mr. Lundeen serve as sophomore counselors. Miss Beal and Mr. Collis are the junior counselors and Miss Westerfer and Mr. Shover are counselors for the seniors.

Mrs. Folger and Mrs. Chapman complete the secretarial duties. The office of Miss Sharp is familiar to the students. Any schedule changes go through this office. The seniors are most grateful to Miss Sharp for her help with college applications. Mrs. Hickey, the school nurse, is always on hand to give first aid. These six women certainly keep things running smoothly in the office.

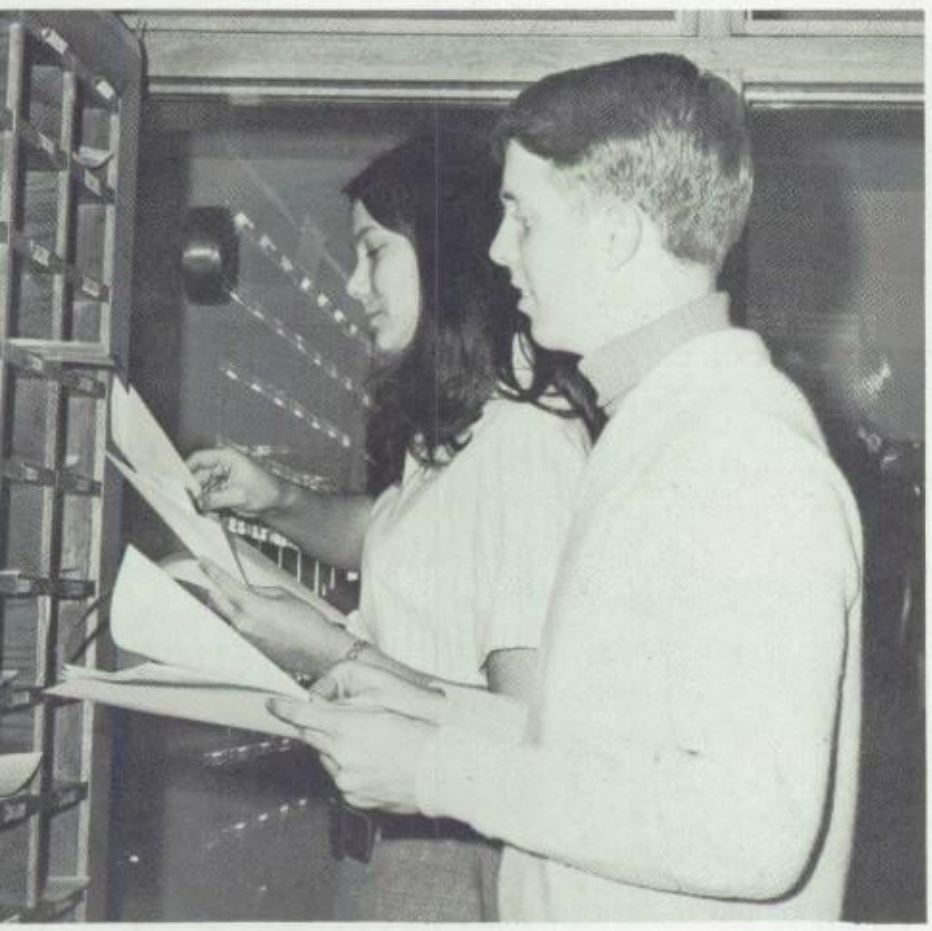
Administration Gap



These papers go to Mr. Patterson. Do you know who he is?

The GHS Student Council has made itself an extremely effective sounding board for student opinion. The organization's success as a governing body and service group has been tremendous. The council's major activities include a "Pass the Hat" campaign to raise funds for AFS, numerous fun nights and student exchange programs. This year a student of the month program was established and a microfilm reader was purchased for the new library learning center. The traditionally council sponsored Homecoming dance and Winter Formal both emerged as very beautiful and exciting events. Student Council Week received enthusiastic response as GHSers munched tootsie roll pops throughout the building. The Christmas project's second year as a part of the council's schedule of activities was an achievement in which all could take pride. Tripling the amount of last year's collection GHS students packed huge boxes of food to be distributed among needy Galesburg families, yet funds remained and were later donated to the American Cancer Society. This year's council under the able leadership of John Boydstun, did much to better the student-administration relationship.

The duties designated to the Senior Council are the organization of Baccalaureate, Commencement, and Senior Playday. The '68-'69 council fulfilled these functions with the highest competence and then went on to raise the funds necessary for Senior Prom. Composed of delegates from each senior advisory, this year's energetic council included among its money making projects, numerous dances, bakesales, and the selling of tootsie pops. Senior Council also took advantage of Homecoming weekend. Carnations were sold at the football game; cars were washed on the morning and afternoon preceeding the dance; and that evening, dedicated fathers parked cars for the event. The group's most abitious project was the concert on May 3, featuring The Crying Shames.

One of the greatest honors bestowed upon a GHS student is an opportunity to serve on Interclub Council. This organization, composed of those students holding leadership positions throughout the school, seeks to promote and coordinate all GHS activities. The first few weeks of school found this year's council involved in the planning and execution of a banquet at which the members and club sponsors presented their goals for the coming year. The various club presidents also participated in sophomore orientation when they were featured as speakers in a special assembly. Although the membership rarely functions formally as an organization, the Interclub Council's extremely successful unification of their school activities has proved invaluable.

Hakan Blomqvist, AFS student from Sweden

My time in Galesburg has taught me a great many things I will bring back home. I've learned to realize the importance of "the exchanging of ideas" and "understanding" between the world's different nations. I've learned to appreciate and to respect the similar ideas and differences of people who, though they live in different countries, have dreams and efforts similarly directed toward the goal of a peaceful and useful life. AFS really is an open door which leads to friendships among people.

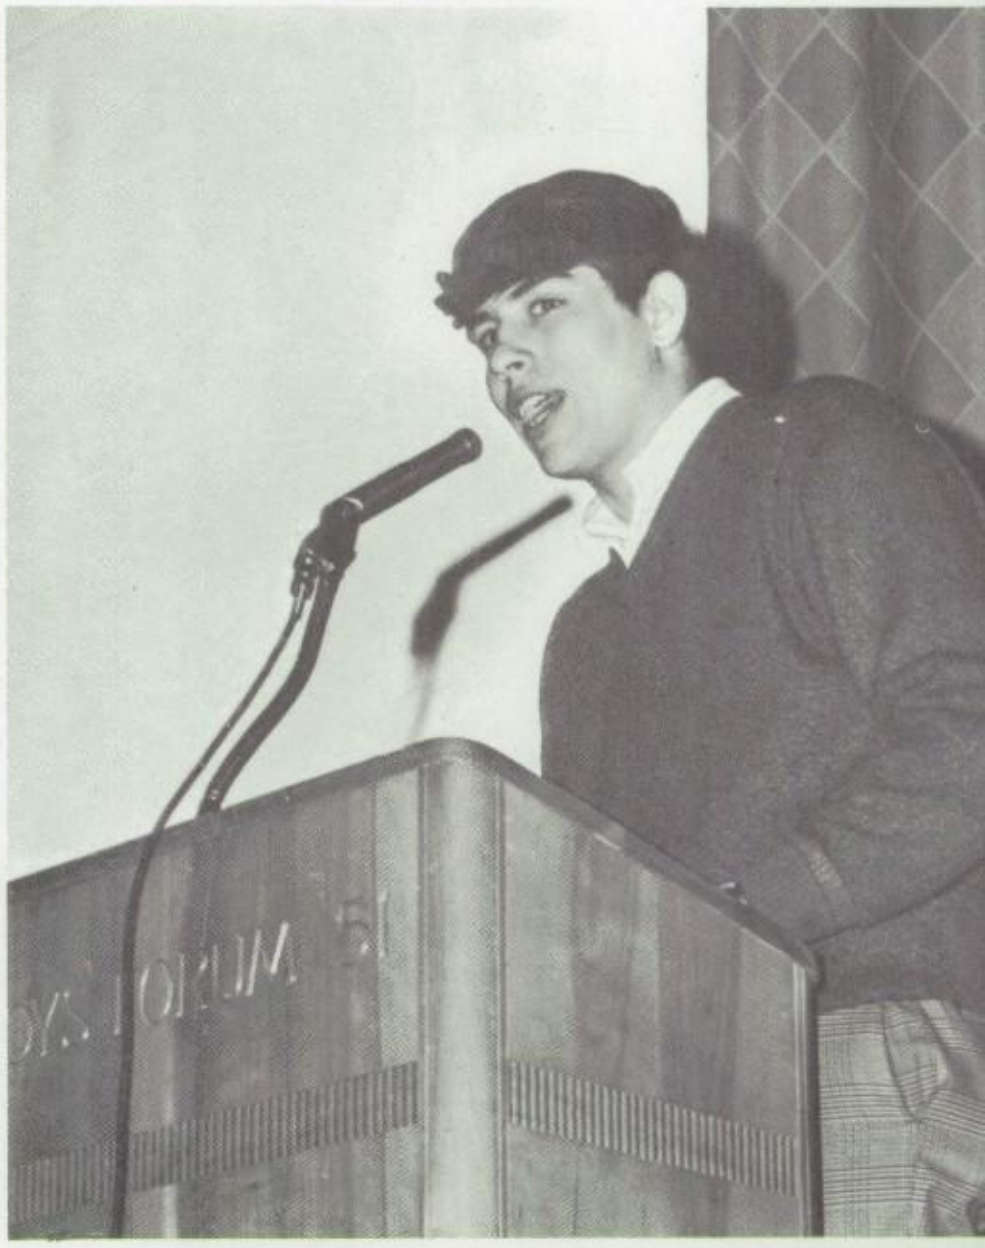
U.S. has become my second homeland and Galesburg my second hometown and the Blanchard family my true second home. I've had the great opportunity to really get acquainted with the so called "American Way," a "great way". I've gotten acquainted with the American people, a people so openhearted and friendly. What an outsider the average tourist remains!

I don't know how I can thank you, especially my just wonderful American family, for making this year such a lovely experience for me.

Always your Swedish Friend,

Hakan

"Walk Together, Talk



Rich Hegg, Summer AFS student to England

This past summer will always live in my memory as one of the most wonderful experiences of my life. The opportunity to live and learn in a foreign country under a family situation is truly a once in a lifetime occurrance and a "Thank-you" can't begin to express my gratitude.

In England, I found that beneath the reserve air of the British there is friendliness and warmth. When you have made an English friend, you have a friend for life. Although we speak the same language, life in a small island country varies greatly from the U.S.A. Besides the slower pace of life, the cooler summer climate adds to the enjoyment of the British way of life.

Through the American Field Service, I was able to make lasting friendships with foreigners as well as many other American AFS'ers. By living abroad, you also have a different perspective of the United States presented which you can learn from. I am very proud to have had a small part in promoting the feeling of understanding through membership in the great AFS family.

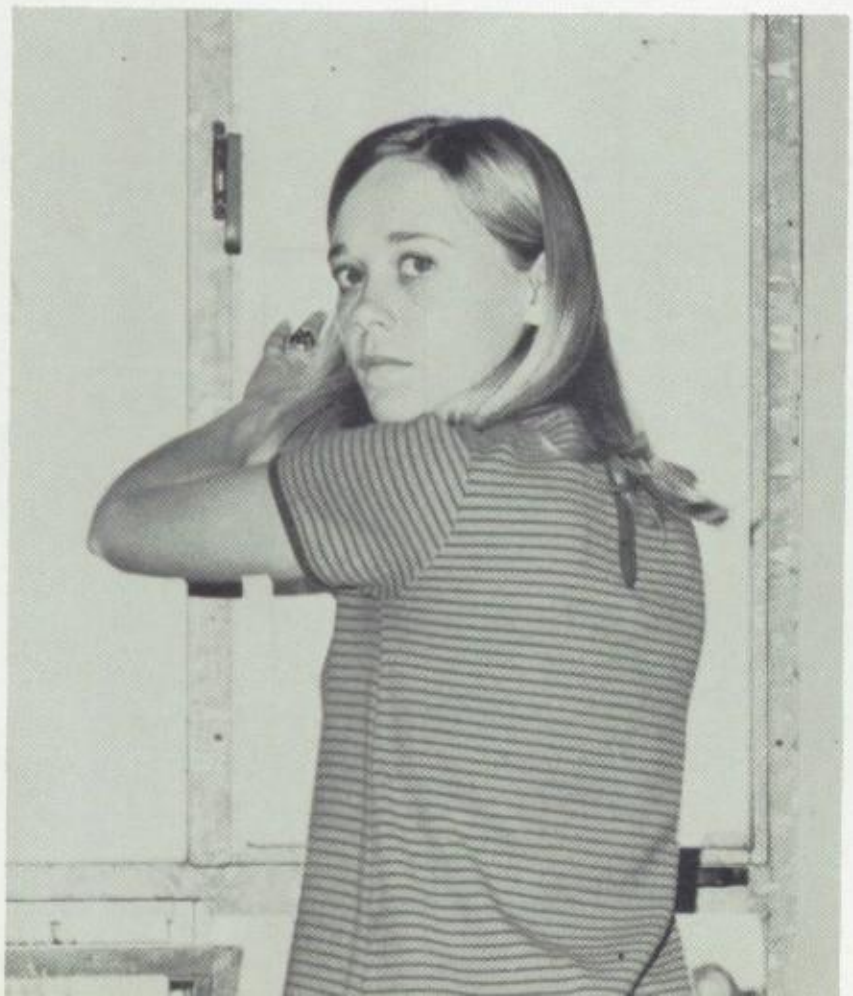
Co-editors work long hard hours on putting out the yearbook.

The '69 Reflector staff began their work long before the '68-'69 schoolyear, when Janet and Sue set up office last summer in Sue's basement. Work was continued as Seniors solicited donations from patrons and juniors sold ads to various businesses in and around the Galesburg area. The Sophomores helped out by selling concessions at the football and basketball games. A few of the staff members attended the Chicago Journalistic Convention, learning more of yearbook planning. Under the guidance of Mr. Kenney, the Reflector staff changed yearbook companies which proved to be quite helpful. One must be closely affiliated with the production of the Reflector to realize the time and work which goes into it.



Reflector editors climb the walls trying to meet deadlines.

Many an exasperating hour is spent working on completion of the yearbook.

The Sophomore Reflector staff, probably the most unjustly abused group at the high school, is forced throughout the year to undergo dire weather conditions, crabby customers, and terribly forbidding senior editors. At every home game, these brave souls assume pitifully good-natured smiles and set out to man the often freezing concession stands. During football season, the little band bears up under the inevitable sloshing of scalding coffee while although basketball season offers the warmth of shelter, it subjects the courageous group to the frenzied smoke-filled rush of intermission. One may gather, however, with what relief the valiant staff assumes the duties of the Junior Reflector staff.

Mr. Kenney trains sophomores to work at concession stands.

The fall of '68 found this year's "Arte Clubbe" deeply involved in the making of Homecoming decorations. Bakesales provided the organization with the funds enabling them to take field trips, while the Allerton Art Scholarship, awarded this year to Barb Stevens, financed her summer at the University of Illinois. The talents of the group were brought to the attention of Galesburg's citizens when the club participated in the GHS outdoor art display, and the work of numerous members remained constantly in demand at the Civic Art Center.

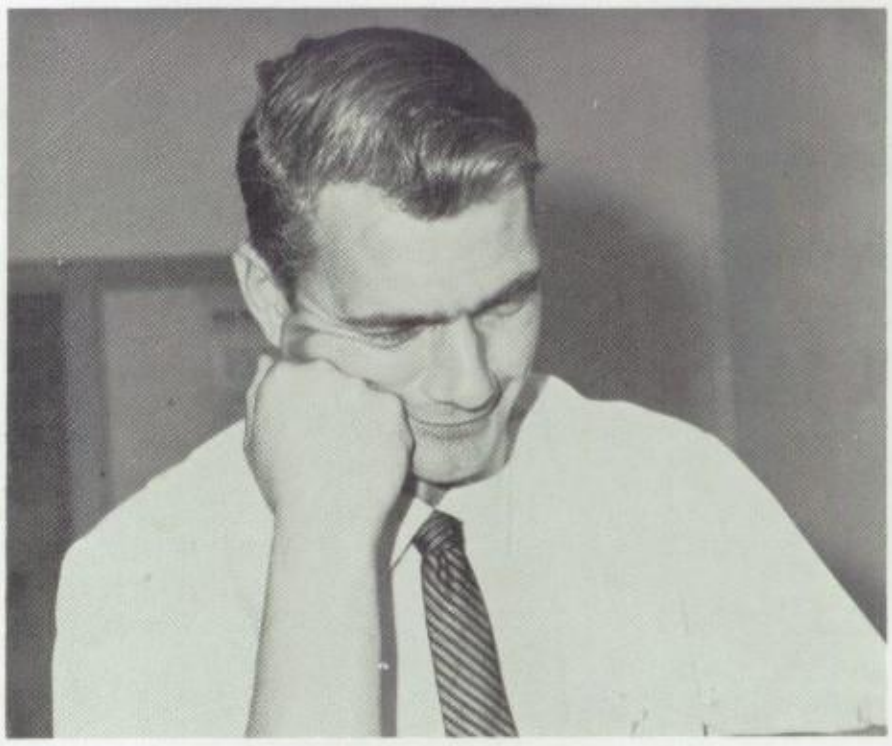
Papers fly; voices rise; the whip of Editor-in-Chief, Kevin Patton, cracks; crazed subordinates jump; and the GHS bi-monthly Budget once again emerges on schedule. The expanded '68-'69 edition appeared at the end of each two week long journalistic voids to inform the inhabitants of GHS. This year's publication circulated throughout the halls of GHS bearing highly imaginative, informative coverage of all high school social events, organizational activities and competitive athletic contests. A diversity of features and editorials crowded impressive pages as Budget staff members sought to communicate with both students and faculty, to provide a timely, relevant quality, to educate, arouse and amuse. The Galesburg Budget was published this year with the help and advice of Mr. Joe Patterson, the recently chosen journalistic sponsor, whose knowledgeable, perceptive awareness in part enabled the Budget staff to emerge so successfully.



Enthusiastic (?) Mr. Patterson accepts the challenge of being advisor of the Budget.

The National Honor Society honors students who have done outstanding work throughout their high school careers. The purpose of this organization is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage development of character. This spring, in an assembly, forty-two seniors and thirty-eight juniors were elected to NHS. To be eligible for membership, a student must have attained a B average, and have attended the high school for at least a year. The final selection of members is made by the faculty.

Accentuating the Christmas season, GSL members decorate the tree on the balcony.

It is the aim of the Girl's Service League to promote activities that will better the school and community. Any girl attending GHS is encouraged to join. This year's GSL work began during the last weeks of summer as girls met to make the cheerful flowers which teachers found decorating their desks on the first day of school. "My Fair Lady," the theme of the annual style show held September 5, created the light and colorful atmosphere necessary for the showing of an ideal GHS wardrobe. The brightly decorated goal posts, the school Christmas tree, boxed cookies for local nursing homes, and courtesy notes sent to girls in need were all among GSL projects. The activities of the 68-69 GSL were carried far beyond local limits through its support of a Korean girl in her efforts to gain an education. The spring banquet drew this year's activities to a climax.

Contributing financial aid to various school projects is the main function of this organization. Each year, as the Boy's Forum makes money from the pop machines, they purchase the school Christmas tree, film athletic contests, and sponsor a safety assembly. Boy's Forum also buys needed equipment for several departments in the school. Mr. Shover and Mr. Lundeen sponsor the Boy's Forum organization. Pep Club Cheers "Streaks" to Victory

The GHS Pep Club rallys school spirit for home and out of town sports events, continuously packing the home stadium to full capacity, while crowding bus loads of wildly enthusiastic supporters off to cheer at the more distant sports contests. The '68-'69 club membership proved to be one of the school's largest and as a result out of town tickets were sold at an even lower discount. Led this year by President, Diane Apsey, the club sold candy bars as a money making project and made huge "Support-The-Streaks" banners which decorated the halls of GHS during weeks of intense competition. Representatives elected from each advisory encouraged school spirit and game attendance, and as a result, cheered on from the side-lines by more loyal supporters than ever, the "Streaks" completed one of their greatest athletic seasons.

A well defined majority of GHS students purchase a Student Activity Association ticket upon entry into the high school and in doing so, makes a decision which soon proves to have been invaluable. A students' SAA ticket provides immediate entry into football and basketball games as well as the chance to sit amidst the energetic and unrestrained shouts of the special high school cheering section. This same ticket provides its holder with a regular copy of the GHS bimonthly newspaper the Budget and on numerous occasions gain a student admittance to a special dance or arts production. This service comes as a result of the tremendous amount of work done by the Students Activity Association presiding over this year by Sally Wong. The organization takes charge of the annual awards assembly as well as the many assemblies held throughout the year, which proved to be extremely successful. The Galesburg High SAA can be justly proud of its service provided to almost all GHS students.

Students who feel the urge to act and would like to display their talents, would greatly enjoy Stage Call. Stage Call is GHS's drama club sponsored by Mr. Charles Krause. Stage Call is a very active organization throughout the schoolyear. Its activities include not only a fall and spring play, but an all day trip to Chicago, taking in a top stage production in the afternoon. The Student Directories and a once a week five minute school newscast are annual projects of Stage Call. To become a member of Stage Call a certain number of points must be earned through participation in a dramatic production. However, one does not have to appear on stage to earn these points. There are many opportunities to gain points working on one of the backstage crews, such as make-up, publicity, or the property crew.

Members Hail Caesar At Roman Banquet

A great number of those students participating in the GHS Latin curriculum have found membership in Latin Club to be extremely enlightening. Tempted to meetings with promises of "no homework," dedicated Latin students have been rewarded with stimulating talks such as that presented by a professor at Western Illinois University on "Mythology Today." The highlight of each year comes in the spring as members revive last year's toga for their grand entrance into the traditional Roman banquet. This year a uniquely American addition to the affair came in the form of fried chicken but was thoughtfully compensated with huge baskets of Italian grapes. The year's climactic finish came as students strolled downtown Galesburg dressed as their ancient Roman counterparts and laughingly withstood the stares and comments of the Galesburg citizens.

Under the advisorship of Mr. Engrav and Mr. Reuter the group holds regular meetings in an attempt to learn about the people and culture of Germany. The GHS French Club, organized to provide students with extracurricular pursuit of language skills and cultural understanding, completed in an extremely successful season this past year. Interesting speakers on French language and customs entertain and inform students at regular meetings—a highlight being the meeting conducted by a Knox College French student. The organization refrains, however, from becoming orientated only toward those students desiring intellectual stimulation and intru Parisan style pursues a round of social events. Numerous parties were held throughout the year and were enjoyed immensely by all participating. The club's greatest social success, however, proved to be the hayrack ride held during the fall of '68. Presided over by Hiram Wilson, this year's French Club completed an extremely busy but always funfilled year.

Some of the same warmth and exuberance of the Spanish peoples pervades the atmosphere of the monthly meetings of the GHS Spanish Club. That time set aside for instructive lecture and discussion on Spanish language and culture inevitably and sometimes almost spontaneously transforms itself into an often unexpected form of Spanish (or American) party. Students may join in the breaking of a pinata or as is usually the case the swift and sometimes disastrous devouring of huge amounts of tacos, tortillas and enchiladas. The annual Taco Party again proved to be a tremendous success as did the Spanish dance contest in which members of the club participated with great vigor and enthusiasm. The traditional Christmas Party and spring banquet emerged highlights of an extremely busy and successful year for the 68-69 Spanish Club.

The goals of the 68-69 Pasteur Society seemed far out of reach until the organization's loyal membership decided upon the necessary exertion of their extremely convincing sale's tactics. The various technics proved successful and bumper stickers were soon plastered over the cars of numerous GHS students and parents. The long awaited trip to Chicago and the possibility of a geology expedition became realities, and the enthusiastic club members began planning. The host of speakers featured at this year's meetings included a local Knox College geologist and radio astrologist. The activities of the GHS Pasteur Society are not all so obviously exciting, and yet their intellectual stimulation may never be doubted.

This year's debate squad concentrated a developing oratorical capacity upon the nationwide high school debate topic, "Resolved: The United States should establish a system of compulsory service for all citizens", and emerged with the respect of teams throughout the state of Illinois. The exuberant, extravagant elocution of the 68-69 squad enabled the strength of both negative and affirmative cases to withstand the verbosity of numerous other high school teams and capture ninth out of 116 places at the University of Illinois state tournament. The impressiveness of this record continued to characterize the results of both Junior and Varsity tournament results. At Normal the Varsity squad tied for third and at Sterling Steve Wilson placed as second speaker in novice competition. The vigorous rhetoric of an extremely successful squad, coached this year by Mr. Dale Allard, enabled a relatively inexperienced squad to compile a record of wins far outweighing that of losses.

The Future Teachers of America opened its 68-69 season with the Regional Fall Workshop. This event, held for the first time at GHS, proved to be extremely successful, resulting in the institution of FTA Chapters at Roseville and Knoxville. Numerous money making projects were instigated by this year's enthusiastic organization. Among them were breakfasts, bake-sales, and an addition to our Homecoming tradition, the balloon blast. Among the interesting and sometimes controversial topics discussed at this year's meetings were the role of a counselor, the Chicago riots, and ghetto teaching. The organization again visited a nearby college as a part of the spring field trip, while the Galesburg FTA Chapter, advised by Miss Hinchliff, Miss Pearson, and Miss Lawson, was well represented at the IAFTA convention.

"G" Men Exert High-Pressure Salesmanship

Grinning widely, Galesburg's rugged, robust all-Americans line the halls at each home game to weaken the sales resistance of the local citizenry with their slick, high-pressure sell. Score cards and official Streak's pencils change hands swiftly, and "G" Club members merge on innocently loyal fans, politely usurping coats and hats for the evening. The GHS varsity lettermen thus diligently compile a total of 300 points each, which enables them to attend the annual "G" Club banquet free of charge. The organization's members frequently exceed the 300 points and upon receiving financial reimbursement for their further services become the only students at Galesburg High to be "employed" as members of a club.

FHA Brightens Holidays with "Burning of the Greens"

The annual collection of Galesburg's forgotten Christmas trees again reached its climax in the FHA "burning of the greens." This year both school and community stood to benefit as the Galseburg Chapter of Future Homemakers of America far outstepped the boundaries of GHS. The energetic leadership of this year's President, Judy Ditto, encouraged the organization to initiate numerous projects. Among the most successful were the support of a Korean orphan and the purchase of equipment to be placed in a local center for handicapped children. The FHA sponsored Sweetheart Swirl, which emerged one of the season's loveliest social events just as the Christmas Tea had months before. The GHS chapter of FHA again proved itself to be one of the school's most active and worthwhile organizations.

The annual GAA Kick-off put this year's group of girls off to a great start. The various athletic activities began immediately with archery, followed by track and field, one of the many innovations of this year's extremely busy and enthusiastic club. Swimming and lifesaving provided girls with new opportunities, while bowling, golf, ping-pong, and soccer were all included on this year's schedule of activities. The Penny Prance again proved a huge success, while GHS's first Sadie Hawkins' Day Dance highlighted the holidays. This year's organization, backed by the valuable advice and support of Mrs. Andrews, Miss Lawson, Mrs. Rosine, and Mrs. Sperry, sought not only to provide the girls of GHS with numerous and enjoyable athletic activities, but to benefit school and community with a newly instigated service project.

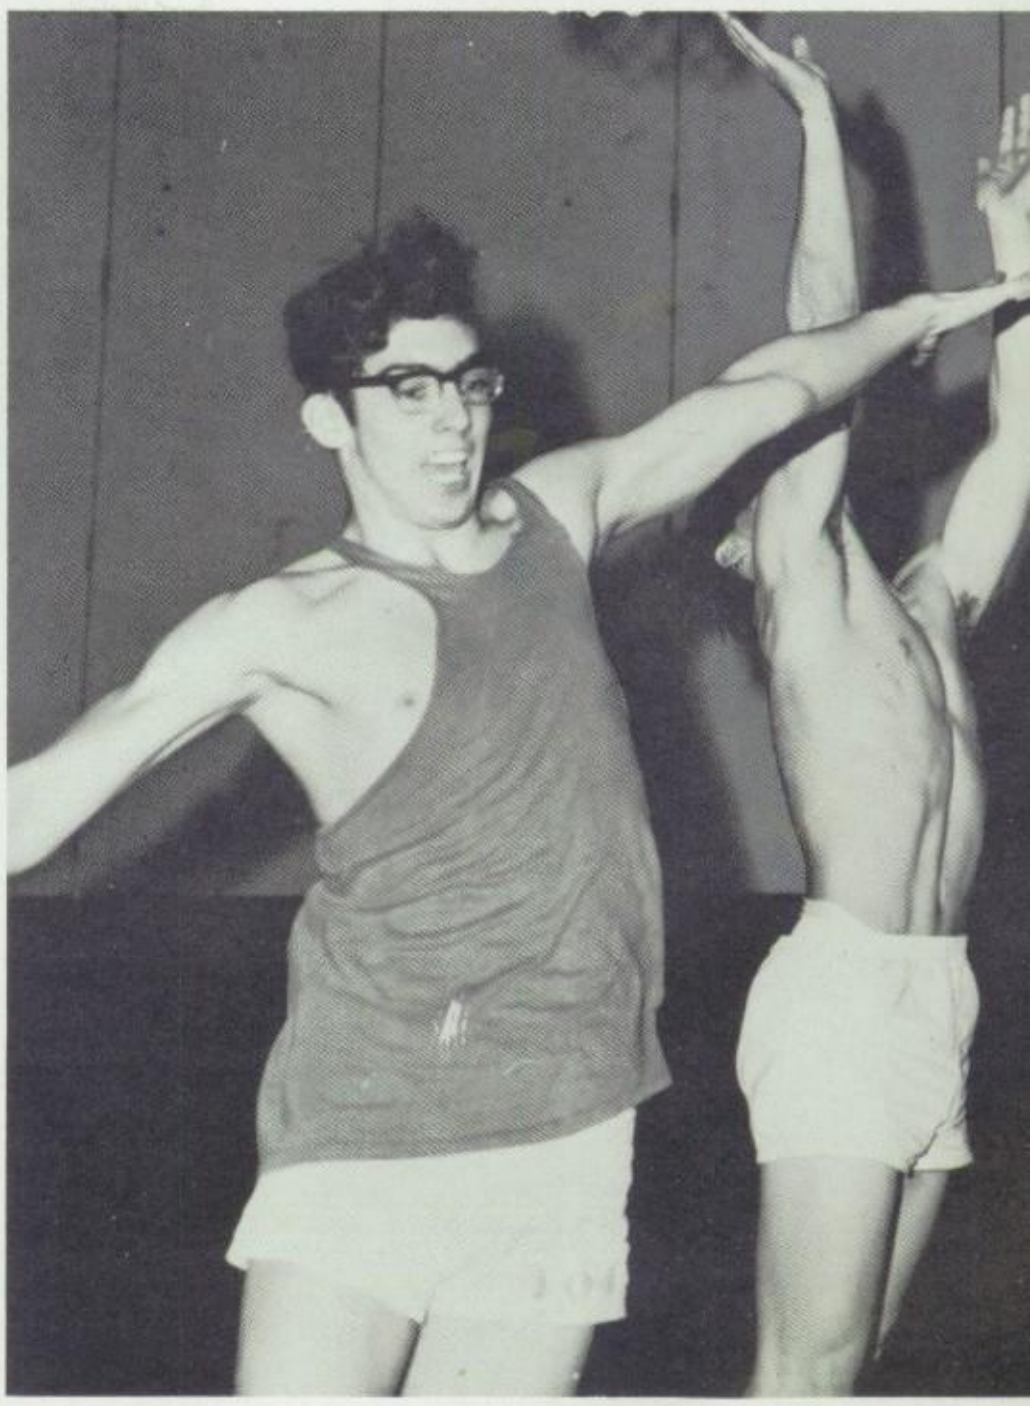
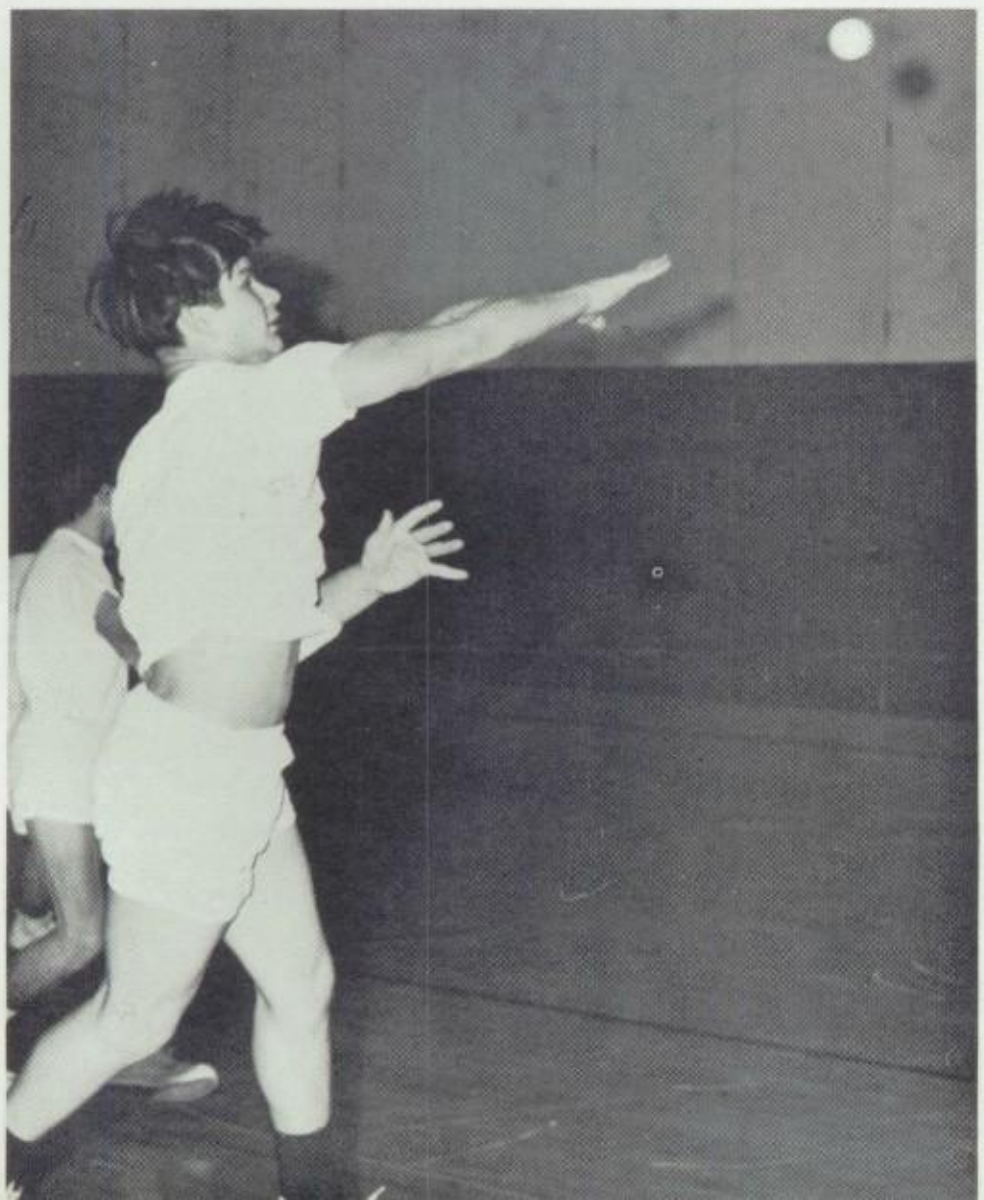
Intramurals Provide Athletic Competition

Have a ball . . . join Intramurals



It's a bird...it's a plane...it's Alden Calmer!



The GHS male counterpart of the Girl's Athletic Association is the boys' Intramural program under the excellent advisorship of Mr. Art Fish. This extremely active sports organization provided strenuous but very enjoyable athletic activity for those boys unable to participate in the long practice sessions required by the regular GHS sports program. The schedule of intramural activities begins in the fall with archery and ping pong. Basketball, wrestling and handball follow. In the spring, weather permitting, golf and softball are offered. Good natured competition heightens in intensity as tournaments draw to a close, and upon their conclusion ribbons are awarded to those participants deserving of recognition.

Streakettes Exercise Acrobatic Talents

The girls' gymnastics team at GHS is called the Streakettes. Sophomores, as well as Juniors and Seniors are eligible for this team, providing they have the required acrobatic abilities. The Streakettes, coached by Mrs. Rosine, practice every Thursday night after school. Dressed in black tights, leotards, and silver tops, their act in the Reflectavue is always quite impressive. Their demonstration of group stunts and individual acrobats exhibited skill and co-ordination. The Streakettes also performed during the halftime of a home basketball game.

Future Farmers Find Their Fields

The official blue and gold jackets appear on numerous occasions to remind those students of the FFA sponsored candy machines. Presided over this year by Steve Tolley, the GHS Chapter of Future Farmers of America has sought to provide various opportunities for those boys interested in occupational agriculture. The energy of the organization's other officers and members have been guided wisely throughout the year by Mr. Ray Dunn. The annual reporters workshop that was held at the Knox County Farm Bureau was attended by the GHS chapter reporter while other members went to the leadership training school. Numerous other students received high honors at the FFA foundation awards program.

Chemists and Usherettes Guide Confused

Beginning chemists enter the laboratory slightly dazed and more than a little petrified. They are quickly assured by the capable, friendly expression of the senior lab assistant, ready at all times to engage himself in a lengthy series of attempts at lighting a bunsen burner, or in the patronizing art of supplying bewildered students with often dated calculation results. The kindly lab assistant daily supplies his lowers with keys to their drawers and then slyly proceeds to watch with eager eyes for the disappearance of equipment. His quiet, warm laughter is always ready at the sound of breaking glass and the taunting phrase "better get your goggles on" waits ready for the right moment just as the instructor approaches. The amateur chemist has found a real friend and protector in the GHS lab assistants.

Bright, cheerful (and eventually slightly stiff) smiles luminate the faces of those girls who have chosen to endure for two hours the aching torment of tired feet. The GHS usherettes have bonded themselves to this worthy service of leading loyal but confused fans to their seats for the ensuing ball games – all in hopes of an invitation to the annual "G" Club banquet. Each year the girls have received their well-earned reward and have also been given the opportunity to develope warm friendships with those regulars who have reserved their seats in the section presided over by a certain usherette. This year's squad of usherettes may have found much to endure but also found much to enjoy in an experience which proved to be extremely worthwhile.

This year the GHS librarian has had her work cut out for her with the enormous task provided for by the building of the new learning center. With the help of the librarians, a completely new cataloging system was devised, not to mention the moving and arranging of thousands of books. These girls remained constantly on call to aid students in finding materials and checking out books, magazines, and newspapers. Their services proved invaluable as GHS students entered the learning center for the first time and found its hugeness and diversity of study aids to be confusing. This year the assistant librarians received a quarterly grade for her work in the library but in the years to come the program will exist on a purely voluntary basis. The appreciation extended to these assistants by faculty and students is tremendous.

Students Administrate in Office and Library

Patiently busy hands snatch pink and white attendance slips from aging door clamps. Tired eyes hover over the intricate and often impenetratable code-like messages of the GHS faculty, and finally there emerges from the office an attendance list carefully denoting absentees, tardies and other necessary classifications. Distribution is completed, and there begins the lengthy series of trips to teachers from counselors (and vice versa) as students are warned, encouraged, and frequently reminded of a forgotten purse or gym suit. The GHS hall cadet remains constantly on duty, ready to serve the school in her diverse and often unusual administrative capacities.

The GHS A Cappella Choir provides the focal point for all vocal music at the high school. This year's group got off to a great start with exceptional performances at Teacher's Institute and at the Galesburg Kiwanis Club. Another choir program, presented at both Churchill and Lombard assemblies, proved to be a tremendous success, while this year's fabulous production of Camelot far surpassed all previous GHS musicals. The winter concert featured as its main attraction, the traditional "Song of Christmas," and just as the Spring Sing, it received the public's vigorous applause. A civic minded organization, A Cappella Choir sang Christmas carols on the staircase of Home Savings and Loan, again making their talents available to the citizens of Galesburg.

Girls' Glee Club

A high point of this year's Reflectavue was the colorful, energetic song and dance routine entitled "Those Were The Days." This lively and imaginative representation of musical history was only one of the many successful performances of the 68-69 Girl's Glee Club. Under the skillful direction of Mr. Roland Hegg this organization of Sophomore girl's sang in the high school Christmas Concert and Spring Sing with professional polish. Practice for these performances takes place in the GHS choir room three days a week, while the remaining days provide the girls with an often noisy and always fun-filled "study period" in which to develop new friendships.

Each spring over thirty talented GHS students are selected by the high school music director, Mr. Roland Hegg, to participate in the next year's singing ensembles. The names of these extremely active groups become well known throughout school and community during the following year. The Senior Girls' Octet, Junior Girls' Ensemble, and Singing Streaks make their talents available upon request, and as a result the students are asked to sing at numerous community functions. The groups find themselves especially in demand during the Christmas season when they are booked for singing engagements almost daily. In March, the ensembles enter state competition and never fail to return with superior ratings. These valuable organizations develope good-natured rivalries throughout the year, and in doing so maintain their own high standards.

Trombones blare out as band performs in assembly.

Tradition was broken this year, and the GHS Marching Band covered the Streak's half-time football field at a record-breaking 150 steps per minute. The effects were amazing. Not only were member's feet kept warmer, but enthusiasm increased, and the band performed with an exuberant, spirited quality never before heard by citizens of Galesburg. This year's success may be partly attributed to the excellent director, Miss Sally Rynott, whose sharp whistle blows have daily brought over 80 enthusiastic students out onto a practice field for a period of complex, strenuous drilling. Concerts have been given at Lombard and Churchill Jr. Highs while the regularly scheduled Christmas and Spring concerts have emerged widely acclaimed. An extra honor was awarded this year's band as drummer John Boydstun was named to MacDonald's All-American High School Band and for two weekends GHS students crowded before Television screens to see their musical concert perform in the nation's holiday parades.

Instrumentalists Provide

The Stage Band, proves to be the busiest instrumental group at GHS. It's seventeen members have traveled to various schools about Galesburg and performed for civic organizations. The instrumentalists are always ready and willing to meet together after school for a practice session. Composing the Stage Band, or "Silver Chords" are brass instruments supplemented by drums and a piano. This is also the band that sits in the music pit and accompanies the Reflectavue. The Stage Band is under the direction of Miss Sally Rynott. Adding variety to the music department, is a unique instrumental group. The German Band, composed of five members, plays music with the flavor of old Germany. The members of the German Band perform at various civic affairs, wearing authentic ladenhosen.

Up, Up and Away!

Galesburg's track squad of 1968 will be remembered long for its impressive list of achievements. As workouts got into full swing in March, the boys trained hard and brought amazing results. In dual meets, the Streaks lost a close contest to Peoria Central but came on to defeat a good Richwoods squad. In the only triangular meet, Galesburg smothered Canton and Monmouth. Coach C. C. Van Dyke's track team displayed its ability in relay meets where the Streaks competed with many schools. At Kewanee, GHS placed 2nd, and at Monmouth they came in 1st. After placing first in both the Illini and Northwest Conference meets, Galesburg took 3rd at Geneseo and copped 2nd place honors at the tough Woodruff Relays. In the District, GHS compiled more points than any team in the District's history.

Streaks overcome many obstacles to attain victory.

Streaks Leave Opponents Teed-Off

Although golf usually is considered an individual sport, the GHS golfers of 1968 were wielded into a highly successful single unit by Coach Roger Soper. With practice beginning in late March, the squad breezed through dual meet competition with its fiercest opponents being rain, cold, and windy weather. After an initial rout over Geneseo, the linksters continued to crush such powerhouses as Kewanee, Rock Island and Pekin as they rolled to a 13-0 season record. Highlighting the season was the 1st place finish in the Champaign Invitational, a tournament bringing together 20 of the top teams in the state. Added to the impressive list of Galesburg's achievements was a 2nd place finish in the Northwest Conference meet and a 1st place finish in the rugged Illini meet. Unfortunately the Streaks ended the year with a rather disappointing 2nd place finish in the District. Chances for a repeat performance in 1969 look very bright. Although the team lost 5 stalwart seniors, there will be a return of 5 lettermen.

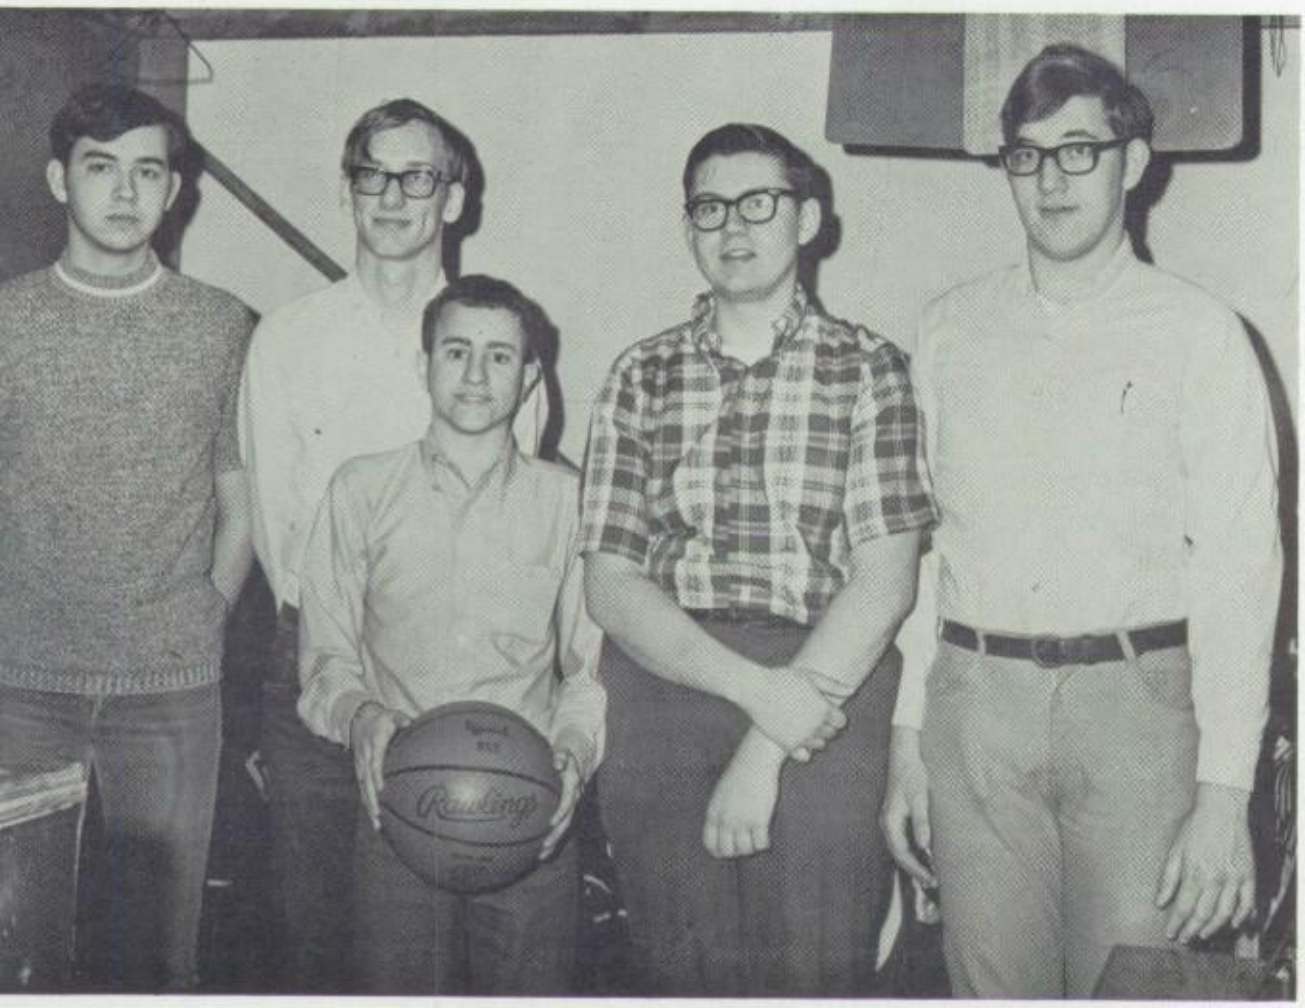
Managers Hard Working Behind The Scene



J. Lipsky, T. Gummerson, D. Griffith, L. Johnson, W. Whipple.

Behind the scene of every GHS victory is a crew of hard working managers. Although never cheered by large crowds and rarely given credit by students, these boys are greatly appreciated by the athletes. Equipment is clean and in good working order. With jobs such as cleaning balls, folding towels, regulating showers, packing and caring for equipment, as well as doing small incidental favors for the players, the manager plays the role of an all-around handy man. Under the able leadership of Mr. Bob Johns and Mr. Charles Bednar, the staff of managers is a great asset to GHS athletes.

DeBaugh Excells in Athletics & Studies

David DeBaugh, 1969 recipient of the Gerald D. Phillips award.

At GHS a boy's fine athletic record often overshadows his academic achievement. Each year the Gerald D. Phillips award is presented to the senior boy who has won a Varsity letter during his junior year, and has the highest grade point average of all the letter winners. This year the recipient was David DeBaugh who won letters in cross country and track. Besides being an outstanding runner, Dave is president of F.T.A. and has consistently held a place on the honor roll.

Harriers Romp Through

The basic ingredients for Cross Country harriers include the three D's...discipline, determination and dedication. Although this year's Harriers finished with a mediocre record of 6 wins and 6 losses, the squad put in long hours of training into a sport which receives little recognition compared to other sports at GHS. After starting off the season with 3 losses, Coach Joe Rodeffer's runners came alive with a victory over East Moline and a win in the Monmouth-Farmington triangular. Rock Island and Canton soundly thashed the Streaks, but the steady running of 69'ers, McKie and DeBaugh, plus promising sophomore Sundberg led GHS to victories in the remaining four meets of the season. In conference meets, the team finished 3rd in the Northwest and 4th in the Illini.

To 22-4 Season

In frigid March, while everyone was thinking about the state basketball tournament, Coach Beal and his boys were already working out for baseball. When the baseball season rolled around it was obvious that the hard work was paying off. Beginning with an easy win over Farmington, the Streaks then settled for a split in a double header at Richwoods. After victories over Monmouth and Moline, Galesburg was derailed as they again split a double header with Limestone. Picking up with another victory over Moline, the Streaks proved to be unbeatable for the remainder of the season. Tournament play began and the Streaks breezed through the District and Regional Tournaments without allowing the opponents to cross the plate. In the Sectional Title game, the Streaks faced Peoria Manual and were edged out 2-1.

Football at GHS suffered a rather exasperating season. Plagued by the lack of experience, Coach C. C. Van Dyke was handed the job of developing a team around only one returning starter. The Streaks began their season on an unhappy note, losing to arch rival Pekin but they rebounded back by soundly trouncing Peoria Woodruff. A last minute touchdown prevented Galesburg from a victory over Canton and a fourth quarter drive by Springfield Griffin spelled another loss for the Streaks. The absence of an offensive machine proved to be a deciding factor in the Galesburg losses to strong Peoria Central and Blue Island teams. Quincy played the spoiler role for Homecoming as the fourth quarter touchdown drive defeated the scoreless Streaks. At Kewanee, the Silver and Gold never gave up and came back from a 13 point half time deficit to score a victory. Galesburg closed suffering out the season bowing to Richwoods in frigid weather. Injuries, inexperience, and size all contributed to the dismal 2-7 record, but the role of the underclassmen point to more successful seasons in the near future.

Now I lay me down to sleep...

One of the hardest working units of the athletic department at GHS is the Wrestling Squad. Beginning in November, the wrestlers work on their speed and agility and begin the struggle through the toughest phase of wrestling, making their weight class. This year the squad found that their training brought success as they compiled a 9-3-1 record. Richwoods and Limestone were the first victims to fall as the Streaks crushed them with scores of 31-8 and 40-6. When powerful East Peoria broke the string of Streak victories with a tie, the GHS matmen reeled off more wins. Hampered by injuries, Galesburg was soundly defeated by Moline, Alleman, and East Moline. The Streaks closed out the regular season's competition with impressive wins over Peoria Manual and Princeton.

Now let's not get technical.

Galesburg has a State wide reputation for developing strong basketball teams and the Streaks of 1968-69 upheld the tradition. The Streaks, sported a lead by the scoring duo of Seniors Jim Reinebach and Reuben Triplett, the powerful Streak offense, rang up an average of 80 points per game. When the scoring punch was mixed with the defense of Tuszynski and the ball handling of Thiel and Doyle, and the support of the reserves, the combination was nearly unbeatable. The players trained through the summer and were ready for work when practice began in the fall. As the season progressed, the boys' determination and training paid vast dividends.

Loyal Streak fans display emotion after loss.

As the Streaks defeated Washington to end the regular season, Galesburg fans got ready for what is known as the "second season"—tournament time. Coach John Thiel walked away with his 15th consecutive regional title with heavy wins over Abingdon, district winner Roseville and Knoxville, the #1 small team in the state. In the first round of the Quad-City sectional, Galesburg faced #3 ranked Rock Island Alleman in a game marked as one of the highlights of the tournament. A strong Champaign team upset Galesburg in the first round at Assembly Hall, thus derailing the hopes for a State title. However, it's a highly successful year when you can say you were 25-3 and lost your final game in Champaign.

Although this years sophomore basketball squad was unable to win more games than they lost, the boys displayed flashes of talent throughout the year. Under the direction of Coach Bob Johns, the ponies achieved the fundamentals which may enable them to play on the varsity squad. Completion, dedication, experience, and stamina make men out of boys and the 1968-69 Junior Varsity worked very successfully to that end. Playing before sparse crowds both at home and away, the boys on the "B" team are rarely acknowledged for their fine efforts. After a beginning loss to Kewanee, Coach Beal's squad began molding an enviable season record of 12-3, the only other losses coming to Peo. Central and East Moline. Operating with an ever-changing unit each week, the varsity reserves gain the experience and finesse which can only be learned through games. Because of the long, hard hours of practice in which Coach Beal drills his boys, basketball players are developed to continue to supply the varsity Silver Streaks with talent.

Come on through Jim, I've got you covered.

Loyal "Streak" fans have always taken great pride in the high quality of the GHS Varsity Cheerleading squad and as a result have provided the girls with tremendous, energetic support. This year proved no exception. The same bouncy, peppy enthusiasm pervaded the gym as five varsity basketball cheerleaders led the crowd and team on to innumerable victories. Voices grew hoarse, faces warm and flushed, bodies tense with excitement. Yet, the cheers were executed with skillful perfection and the five never failed to greet their audiences with happy, lively smiles. The long and demanding hours of practice proved themselves worth all the endless effort and anxiety. The 1969 Varsity Basketball Cheerleading squad represented Galesburg High School with the spirited leadership expected of them and went on to perform the most intricate cheers and acrobatics with amazing finesse.

Being a Pony Cheerleader calls for not only acrobatic and cheering abilities, but important personal requirements. A Pony Cheerleader is chosen on her leadership determination, scholastic average, and responsibility. This year, five girls were chosen who not only performed well on the floor, but were excellent representatives of GHS. Their efforts in spreading school spirit and enthusiasm proved successful, in that there were few empty seats at the Pony basketball games.

When that irresistible urge strikes . . .

Sparkling smiles all around

The Junior Varsity Cheerleading Squad or J.V.'s, were responsible for the epidemic of school spirit and enthusiasm at the J.V. basketball games this year. Dressed in white uniforms with bright gold G's, the J.V.'s lead many V-I-C-T-O-R-Y battle cries for the class of "70." Their precise performance and fantastic gymnastic abilities composed a squad which undoubtedly could advance to the Varsity Squad next season.

Six new female attractions accompanied the GHS football team this year. The Football Cheerleaders, chosen by Mrs. Rosine, displayed excellent leadership throughout the football season. Their six smiling faces followed the Streaks not only to Lombard Field, but carried their enthusiasm and school spirit to all out of town games. Dressed in sharp, new uniforms, the Football Cheerleaders adorned the Homecoming motorcade with grace and poise. Their energetic efforts always generated "pep" at each football pep assembly. Congratulations to the squad on completion of their first year as a new cheerleading team.

Lori, that tickles!

AMBITION

Throughout the year, the Sophomores proved themselves to be ready, willing, and above all, able. Accompanying the Homecoming festivities, the Sophs worked diligently on their float. Hungry sports fans thank them for their quick service at the football and basketball refreshment stands. The Seniors would like to rate this year's Sophs as better than average penny pushers, and apologize for drowning out their V-I-C-T-O-R-Y battle cry at each football and basketball game. However, this year's Sophs proved themselves worthy that next year they may descend from their "heavenly" seats at assemblies and sit with the "big kids." (The Class of "70").

The enforced humility of his sophomore year disappears quickly as a Junior contemplates the heights he will soon achieve as a member of the class of '70. Responsibility looms, and for just a moment he is caught up in excitement untouched by tension, drudgery. Games, the Winter Formal, books beginning to pile up in a messy locker become a part of the year. Fall afternoons are spent stuffing pomps in chicken wire, while spring finds him suddenly serious as a stream of white caps and robes fill the auditorium.

In Appreciation...

It seems like just the other day when we received that foreboding list of fourteen deadlines, requiring sixteen pages every two weeks. It is impossible to put out a yearbook without running into some problems, and this year was no exception. Without the patience and cooperation of a lot of people, we wouldn't have been able to overcome these problems. A large portion of our thanks go to Nuclear Publishing Company (in commemoration of their first year with us) and to our representative, Dewain Menter, who never seemed to get upset when we presented him with our seemingly never ending problems. Bill never seemed to complain (too much) when he had to work every Saturday, and when he had to change his layouts to our satisfaction. Diane and Sandi did an excellent job separating and alphabetizing the numerous class pictures. Rich faithfully wrote up all the sports copy after certain staff members from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior staffs turned in the sports records to him. Sue was instrumental in handling the vital area of finances. Mary had to have a great amount of patience when we asked her for copy on such short notice. Barb did a magnificent job on the art designs in the book, displaying great creativity. Although the photographers would like to have locked us out of the dark room, they spent many hours taking, developing, printing, and reprinting their pictures. We would also like to express our appreciation to the Junior staff members who went out and sold ads, and the Sophomores who manned the refreshment stands at the football games, and especially Bill and Alan who went out and sold $75 worth of ads in one evening. A hearty thanks go out to all the kids who participated in Reflectavue, and especially to Mr. Hegg, Miss Rynott, Mr. Krause, Mrs. Hirst, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenney. Mr. Pyatt of Holcomb Studio demonstrated immeasurable patience as he worked on the senior pictures, those hectic three days of group pictures, and various other shots throughout the year. Our appreciation goes out to the local businesses who generously agreed to help sponsor our endeavor, and also to the professional people of Galesburg who kindly gave up their patronage. Most of all, we want to thank Mr. Kenney, who listened to all our gripes and helped us out when things got rough. We also owe our thanks to the Hardines who let us make our headquarters in their basement. Other students that deserved to be acknowledged are Judy Collinson, Beth Malone, and Debbie Moore. We can't forget Alan, who worked so hard with us on the last two days in finishing up the book. Although we realize that we can't please everyone, we sincerely hope that we have created a yearbook that will always bring to mind fond memories of the past year.

Dee,

Do you realize how much space I need to even start to talk about our friendship? Within the past five (or is it six?) years I've probably come to know you better than anyone else! Do you remember 7th grade and Curt, Glenn, Vicki ("Chuckles") and me and you? That was just the beginning....

Since then, we've never been separated! ↑ almost I don't know how we've managed it every year, but we always ended up in the same lunch-line. Each and every year we end up starving together. This year we were real lucky - having lunch - then Giuseppe - Who...

I've tried my damnest this year (especially second semester) to get you and David Russell together. After four years of listening to you shout praises of him, I figured at least you and he could be friends! But you and your Tacoma Washington.... You blew the whole set-up! Now, you've got me to contend with, 'cause in watching him for you, I've begun to take an active interest in him.... (your luck!)

My God, we've got a whole summer together yet! (hopefully) Maybe there's still a chance for you yet! (with Dave - that is - if I can get rid of Chris) And don't forget your 18th birthday — We have a great future ahead — after we blow this hole!!!

don't forget

Do you believe this is two pages long!??
These last days here have been hell especially david
Without you around - Do you know that I Finally russell broke down and went thru the hot-lunch(?) line...
Mell I was very lonely! I'm glad it was only a two-week holiday! dessert

I can't believe that we've been close friends this long! (We're so divirsified)

Well, I have said all I can say, at least all that I can find words to express all the events and fun times we've had the last five years. I fervently hope that in the years to come that we will be ~~still~~ able to remain as close as we are now. I think we will. You have done a few things that have perturbed me... (I think you know what I mean) But I have forgiven you — you're still young and can learn .... with my help —

Somehow or another I know we will make it through — somehow..... (God willing) flower of piece:

There's nothing left to say, so I'll leave this page to remind you of all that we've shared — and + remain as always — Steph

Dianne – Check that! I even spelled your name right. It has the most enjoyably high year I have ever had. Going from normal to pot to Mark to child molesting to God knows what else. We went to see the Blood, Sweat, & Tears in Iowa. They were fantastic. Mark graduated & a party was held for him. You can imagine what went on & what Mark was passing out. Mark & Jeff Snider are going to college together. Mark is willing away his possessions. He hasn't said who he is giving this child to. Now that you know what has been going on I would like to say that its been really great knowing you all of this time. Giuseppe's room has been pretty much the same since you left. I hope you have had a lot of fun. Giuseppe's making us leave now. Good luck & have a great Summe

Dear Dee,

Have you ever noticed how everybody signs your yearbook in the corners instead of the middle of the page? Doug wrote and said that you shouldn't feel bad because he hasn't written anybody; he's been so busy. He said to tell you hi and he admitted that he's fascistic.

I wish the Budget would clean up its printing! I just found out how much it pisses a writer to see a bunch of misprints destroying the meaning of his article.

May you find many STONES in the path of y'all's Wheel of Life.

Phillip Simon

Dee,
You missed the rest of the last. We really missed you.
